Agence France -Presse reported that Agent's theme action film "Pathaan" was sold in India in January this year, which not only broke the local box office record, but also attracted the world's One fan.

However, since Bangladesh's independence from Pakistan in 1971, the authorities have been lobbying by domestic producers. As a result, Indian films are prohibited from being released in China, although India's position in the Bangladesh's independence war is to support Benes.

18 -year -old Sazzad Hossain interviewed outside the cinema in Daka, "I am so excited because Bangladesh has finally been released for the first time."

He also said: "We are all fans of Sharuchan. I can watch his movie through the big screen for the first time."

Because of its low quality, Bangladesh's national films cannot attract fans to watch it, and the number of well -known movie stars that are only younger than Shakib Khan.

Some movie theaters must even secretly play illegal pornographic films to maintain operations, but in the past 20 years, more than 1,000 cinemas are closed, some are converted into shopping malls, and some are changed to apartments.

It was the most luxurious movie theater "Modhumita Cinema Hall", which was posted on the door with the latest Bangladesh movie poster, but a group of heroin addicts was sitting in front.

A cinema employee said, "I haven't seen such a poor number for many years. There are only a few rows. These national films are too bad, and no one wants to watch."

The Bangladesh authorities tried to relieve the Indian film ban in 2015, allowing the cinema to show two popular Bollywood movies "WANTED" and "three fools" (3idiots), but after being protested by domestic movie stars, the theater was being protested. Forced to stop screening.

The Bangladesh government finally issued a decree last month, allowing 10 movies in India or South Asian countries each year to be released in China.

"The Jedi Agent of Bollywood" was released in 41 cinemas in Bangladesh. The filmmaker revealed that many movie tickets in Daka have been sold out for a long time.

Shandong Zibo Barbecue Festival held on May 2, 2023 Agencence France - Presse Good audience and friends, welcome to listen to the financial and epochs of Liberty Asia, I am Rao Yiming.

Recently, Zibo's barbecue culture has attracted great attention across the country. The degree of hotness is not the same, it can be said that it is red throughout the network, and the whole city is hot! The secretaries and mayor of various places have organized a group to "go to Zi Bake Chasa" to learn the city's management and management. Many places, such as Shenzhen and other places, have begun to imitate Zibo's lifting of the stall economy. What are the factors behind Zibo barbecue? Why can Zibo City successfully become a new hot spot in cultural tourism? Zibo barbecue has become a trend or a flash? How much help can it help to unblock the stall economy in many places? This program will discuss the above topics. The guests who participated in the discussion were Qin Weiping, an economist in the United States.

Zibo barbecue overnight red

In the past May Day Golden Week, people at the country were overcrowded, and the most popular was the number of people in Zibo, Shandong, and it was estimated that 120,000 people were going. It is said that the local government has even issued open faith "dismissal" tourists.

The city is so hot, mainly because Zibo barbecue became popular overnight, and tourists swarmed to make fun. Some netizens said that a barbecue restaurant could not come, and the boss kneeling to forgive me. Another Duan Zi said that the local deputy director served as a waiter to help beer. These information reflect a signal, that is, Zibo is too hot.

The cause behind this phenomenon is complicated, the dissemination effect of the "Douyin era", and some retaliatory consumption caused by the three - year blocker of the epidemic, as well as the display of local governments to survive and change.

So, how did Zibo barbecue get angry? It is understood that the Zibo Municipal Government held the "Famous School Talents Express" in Beijing in March. Ma Xiaolei, secretary of the municipal party committee, went to Tsinghua and Peking University to preach, inviting students to develop in Zibo.

To this end, he proposed to visit the two universities for free to visit the tour during the May 1st period and eat it. Some Tsinghua and Bei University students began to search for Zibo scenic spots and found that Zibo barbecue was interesting. Therefore, discussions on platforms such as Douyin and Xiaohongshu. Based on the algorithm effect, Zibo barbecue became more popular and out of control.

Zibo government performance is remarkable and available

In order to allow foreign tourists to "bake in Zibo", leaders at all levels of Zibo have also ushered in a Great Leap Forward for ideological liberation, urban management capabilities and informatization levels.

It is understood that Zibo made a set of combined fists, "overall planning, upper and lower linkage, and the city's heart", and released two open letters to all citizens and tourists. In order to do a good job of daily management, no leaks are not leaked, and various meetings such as mobilization, coordination, and promotion meeting every day will open until 3 or four in the morning.

Multiple Zibo barbecue stalls temporarily build welcoming tourists, and have unlicensed operations, but local urban management no longer crack down. Under the call of the municipal government, they roll up their sleeves with other civil servants and guests.

In order to create Zibo barbecue, the city will pick up and deliver tourists for free, and provide free accommodation without lack of two less. There are also 21 "barbecue" bus lines and opened a special line for barbecue. The phenomenon of taxis slaughter.

The barbecue feast of Zibo also brought people's changes in Zibo and Shandong.

In fact, Zibo used to be a cities with heavy industries. For a long time, Zibo's traditional industry proportion reached 70%, and the heavy chemical industry accounted for 70% of the traditional industries. This is a typical traditional industry. Traditional industries such as chemical industry, building pottery, medicine, and textile were once the foundation of the city.

In recent years, Zibo has seized the historical opportunities of Shandong's green and low -carbon high -quality development pioneer, and promoted the transformation of old industrial cities and the conversion of new and old kinetic energy. Old trees have developed new branches, new materials, intelligent equipment, new medicine, electronic information, etc. "Strong" industry is rejuvenating.

Walking in Zibo City, when you look at it, you will find that the traditional labels that have been posted by people over the years have long been torn off. This ancient city has a lot of net red temperament, because this time the barbecue is famous, although there are accidental components, it is not completely surprising.

The stall economy has become the driving force for domestic demand?

Recently, it has been reported that Shenzhen has announced that it will no longer prohibit roadside stalls from September. Previously, Beijing, Shanghai, Kunming, Hangzhou and other places have announced the relaxation of stalls. According to the Huaxia Times, there are 28 cities in the open -stall economy in China.

The Shenzhen Special Economic Zone reported that Shenzhen recently amended the regulations on the management of city and environmental sanitation, allowing street offices to be based on "facilitating the masses", "reasonable layout", "orderly supervision" and other principles. Under the circumstances, the venue of stalls is delineated. The stipulated shops can also place the goods outside the store's entrance to solicit customers.

Professor Zhu Lijia of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China told the media that liberalizing the "roadside stall" policy is worthy of recognition, which is good for the development of the economy and satisfying the daily life and exchanges of the people. The "roadside stall" itself does not have fundamental contradictions with urban management. As long as it is well managed, it can develop benign. Of course, this also tests the wisdom and level of urban managers.

When the former Prime Minister of the State Council of the State Council went to Yantai, Shandong in June 2020, he had described the stall economy as "fireworks of the world" and "Chinese vitality". However, at that time, official media such as Beijing Daily were not suitable for Beijing and other comments. Therefore, the open stall economy can be said to be a "concession" of the government's living space at the bottom of the people. Similar to poverty alleviation to alleviate the social conflicts and crises that may cause high unemployment rates.

The above is the current financial and economic listening, thank you for your listening. I am Rao Yiming. If you have any opinions and suggestions on this show, please write to [] .或我个人推特账号是 RFA_RYM 进行联系。

From May 10th to 11th, Wang Yi (pictured), director of the Foreign Affairs Office of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China, met with the US National Security Consultant Sha Liwen to agree to maintain communication channels with the United States.

(Voice of German in Chinese) The United States and the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs announced that Jake Sullivan, USA, and Wang Yi, director of the CPC Central Committee of the CPC Central Committee, met in Austria on May 10th and 11th. The United States revealed that the two talked for 8 hours, including the two most sensitive topics between China and the United States: the Russian and Ukraine War and Taiwan issues. Both the White House and the Chinese embassy in the United States stated that this was "frank, realistic, and constructive."

Reuters pointed out, And show that after the relationship drops to the freezing point, the two countries still try to maintain communication with each other.

A senior US official who is unknown to be named pointed out that the talks between Shalvin and Wang Yi are a major progress in Sino-US relations. Washington does not seek conflict or confrontation, and believes that "maintaining communication channels is particularly important when the relationship between the two parties is particularly important." China also expresses this recognition.

The official added that Shalvin and Wang Yi's talks were to "try to find the overlap of interests in some issues." Talking about the issues include Taiwan issues, regional security, the Russian and Ukraine War, anti -drugs, and Beijing's detaining American citizens.

After the United States shot down China's suspected spy balloon, the tension between the United States and China further intensified. This time, the Minister of Defense of China had rejected the US Secretary of Defense Austin to discuss matters related to balloons. China claims that the U.S. shot down is an over-reaction and violates international standards. The U.S. Department of Commerce will add 6 entities related to Beijing's suspected spy ball plan to export blacklists. In the past few days, the U.S. military has shot down three flying bodies over the Alas California Coast in northwestern United States, Yakong areas in northwestern Canada, and the overhead of the US -Canada border.

In response to the Taiwan Strait issue, the Chinese official media Xinhua News Agency reported on the 11th that Wang Yi comprehensively expounded the "strict position of China" on the Taiwan issue and agreed to continue to make good use of the "strategic communication channel". The US officials said that Shalvin emphasized that the two sides of the strait have "no conflict for more than 40 years" under the differences, and Washington does not want to see the status quo of the situation unilaterally.

In addition, Shalvin also put forward concerns about the three American citizens detained in China, and emphasized that this was a priority of the US President Biden.

Agence France -Presse reported that Danielrussel, the former East Asian affairs assistant Daniel During the administration of the United States President Obama, said that from a historical point of view, the communication between the US National Security Counsel and the highest diplomat in China has always been important. Sand The talks between Liwen and Wang Yi, "seem to be almost the only important channel that is still operating."

Russell pointed out that the US -China dispute to avoid openness is "encouraging", but this does not mean that Sino -US relations must be restored. He said: "Both sides are passing severe transmission -sometimes anger -information." However, he also affirmed that these interactions did increase the possibility of finding something in common, which helps to stabilize a dangerous turbulence relation".

Re -arrange Brinkeit to visit China? Afterwards, Brinken did meet with Wang Yi at the Munich Security Conference, but this did not relieve tension. Brincken warned China not to take such "irresponsible behavior." Wang Yi claimed that China was affected by Washington's reaction.

After the balloon incident, U.S. Secretary of State Brosky postponed its trip to Beijing, which was originally scheduled to be in February this year.

After the meeting with Wang Yi, when asked about the "balloon incident", an unnamed US official said, "I think both parties realize that this unfortunate incident has caused the interaction between the two sides. "Movebeyond), re -establish standardized and normal communication channels."

The official added that Shalvin and Wang Yi did not discuss the exact date of Brinken's re -arranging visit, but the White House is expected to maintain interaction in the next few months. At the same time, Biden has been seeking calling with Chinese President Xi Jinping, but the official said that the latest situation in this regard can be disclosed.

In this regard, at the regular press conference of the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs on the 11th, some reporters asked if there was a spectrum of worship and call, and spokesman Wang Wenbin responded to "there is no information in this area."

Reuters on the 11th quoted anonymous insider reporting, [] , To prevent further damage to the US -China relations.

(Voice of Germany) The Ukraine Ministry of Defense said on Friday that the Ukraine's offensive at the front line of Bachurut made significant progress. The Russian and Ukraine's troops have lasted for several months around

Bakhmut's fierce battle. Gannamalyar, deputy minister of Ukraine's Ministry of Defense, said in a statement issued by the social media: "This week, our army did not lose any position in Bachomut, and the enemy forces suffered huge losses. Our troops advanced two kilometers near Bachmut. " However, the Russian side stated that the Urpical Army has not made any progress in Bachomut and said that the so-called Russian army's losses in Bachmummon said that "it is completely inconsistent with the facts."

Bachmart had a population of about 70,000 before the war. In the past few months, the Russian army launched a violent offensive against the city and controlled the city's area of about 80%.

poll: Most Germans hope that Russia and Ukraine will start negotiations to end the war

The latest poll shows that most Germans want Ukraine to negotiate with Russia to end the fifteen-month war that Russia launched a fifteen-month war. During the questionnaire survey initiated by the DUGOV, the DUGOV authorized institution, when asked, "Do you think Ukraine is now in the war with Russia?" 55% of the respondents believe that Ukraine should negotiate with Russia, 28% of respondents believe that they should not negotiate with Russia.

54% of respondents also said that Ukraine should not be accepted to NATO.

Germany's Treasury Secretary cooperated to fight against sanctions.

Demei Treasury Secretary to avoid sanctions to discuss countermeasures

During the Western Seventh Western Finance Secretary Conference, German Finance Minister Lindna and US Finance Minister Yellen held bilateral talks. Both politicians emphasized that it is necessary to carry out cooperation between Germany and the United States in terms of cracking down on Moscow to avoid Western sanctions against Russia. In a statement, the U.S. Treasury said: "Yellen Finance praised Germany's efforts to Germany in coordination with Russia's sanctions and discussed the importance of joint efforts to combat Russia to escape sanctions.

The United States and its allies provide a lot of economic, military and humanitarian assistance to Ukraine, and also use sanctions and export control to force Russia to pay economic costs for this aggression.

will visit Ukraine

According to Beijing, China will send special envoys to Ukraine, Russia and other European countries to discuss the "political solutions" of the Russian and Ukraine War.

Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman Wang Wenbin said at a routine press conference: Li Hui, the Chinese envoy, will start on May 15th, Discuss the political solution of the Ukraine crisis.

Chinese envoy Li Hui will visit Ukraine next week

China has claimed that China's neutral position has made the country's ability to mediate in Russia and Ukraine. However, Western countries generally believe that the wording of the 12 -point peace proposal previously proposed by China was too vague, and did not provide specific plans for the end of the war, and never condemned Russia's aggression.

Wang Wenbin also said that in the Russian and Ukraine War, China "always upholds an objective and fair position and actively persuades and talks." This time, the Chinese representative's visit to the relevant country is another manifestation of "China is committed to persuasion and talk". He also said that at present, the Ukraine crisis is still delayed and China is willing to contribute to "contributing to the political solution of the Ukraine crisis."

On April 26, 2023, Yu Jun (left), deputy director of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of China and Wang Wenbin, spokesman for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, said at a press conference that China will send special representatives to Ukraine and other countries to visit. (Agencelet) [] However, the Kremlin spokesman said on the same day that there were no plans to meet with Chinese envoy meetings.

Since the outbreak of the Russian -Ukraine conflict, the international community has been holding a high degree of doubt about the so -called "neutral stance" of Beijing and whether it can play the "mediation person". On the eve of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, China had announced a "unlimited" cooperation with Russia. After the outbreak of the war, Beijing has always rejected condemnation of Russia's aggression, but has accused the United States and NATO from provoking conflicts. On the first anniversary of the Russian -Ukraine conflict, China also released a 12 -point peace plan to resolve the Russian -Ukraine conflict. Among them, only the words were not required to withdraw troops from Ukraine, which caused criticism from Ukraine and the international community.

Chinese President Xi Jinping has phone calls with the President of Ukraine in April. This is also the first time that China -Ukraine leaders have been talked about since the conflict between Russia and Ukraine. The Wall Street Journal of the United States pointed out that this shows that Beijing is trying to shape itself as a "potential peaceful founder" that has been shaped itself as a conflict between Russia and Ukraine.

[] According to the Associated Press, Beijing has been avoiding the conflict between other countries before, but after the talks between Saudi Arabia and Iran in March and restore the diplomatic relations between the two countries for 7 years, Beijing seems to be trying to show it. Global diplomatic influence.

After the United States and its allies cut off most of Russia's procurement trade, the relationship between China and Moscow was closer. As the largest buyer of Russia's oil and natural gas, Beijing has a strong economic influence on Moscow. At the same time, Beijing also regards Moscow as a diplomatic partner against the United States leading global affairs, and uses the status of the UN Security Council to transfer the international community's diplomatic attack on Russia.

At the same time as Sino-Russian relations are increasingly close, US-China relations have continued to deteriorate, and with the Chinese spy balloon incident in February this year, it has fallen into the bottom. U.S. Secretary of State Brosky was forced to cancel its original visit to China, and the relevant plans have not yet re-arranged.

However, China's highest diplomat Wang Yi and US national security adviser Jack Jack Sakali text held talks in Vienna, Austria on Wednesday and Thursday. According to the Chinese press release, the two sides conducted a discussion of "frank, deep, substantial, and constructive" on promoting Sino-US relations to "eliminate obstacles and stop falling stability". At the meeting, Wang Hongren, Deputy CEO of the National Policy Research Institute of the Taiwan Think Tank, believes that the US strategic fuzzy policy should be changed because the purpose of strategic fuzzy is to obstacle China not to change the status quo of the Taiwan Straits one -sided, but according to China 's recent cultural attacks against Taiwan Looking at it, the strategic blur does not seem to have the effect: "(Strategic fuzzy) goal has obviously failed."

Wang Hongren, Deputy CEO of the National Policy Research Institute of Taiwan Think Tank spoke at the meeting.(Video screenshot/CSIS) Wang Hongren believes that the Bayeng government also realized that the strategy was blurred and could not effectively stop the Chinese martial arts Taiwan, so Biden would openly stated four times that if China invaded Taiwan, the United States would conduct cooperative defense: "I think the United States leaders realize the strategy. Vagueness will lead to appeasement or disaster. Strategic blurring will pass the error message to Chinese leaders, so that Chinese leaders will mistakenly believe that in any circumstances, the United States will not intervene in the Taiwan Strait War. "

Wang Hongren suggested that the United States should establish a military alliance similar to the North Atlantic Convention in Asia, and cover Taiwan to effectively scare Chinese forces to invade Taiwan: "Such an alliance can make Chinese leaders think again and again, whether to be right? Taiwan or neighboring country moves martial arts? "

Scholars: Strategic blurring makes American allies more willing to be on the same front as Taiwan

In response to the issue of strategic fuzzy, Bonnylin, director of the China Strategy and International Research Center (CSIS) China Power Project, expressed different views. Lin Yang believes that maintaining a strategy of Taiwan will encourage American allies to support Taiwan on Taiwan issues: "From the perspective of the United States, if you want to give Taiwan the most support, the best way is that the American allies also join Taiwan. Assistance; and if there are more vague space for American allies, they will be more willing to join. On the contrary, if we clearly propose a solution to assist Taiwan, I think this will make it difficult for many countries to join the ranks of helping Taiwan. "

Bonny Lin, director of the China Strategy and International Research Center (CSIS) China Power Project, expressed different views at the meeting.(Video screenshot/CSIS)

Aesthetic scholars: greater threats than North Korea China to the world

At the meeting, Korean scholars questioned why the United States actively encouraged allies to have a clearer position on Taiwan's issue, but did not respond to the security issues brought by North Korea with the same positive attitude. In this regard, Lin Yang pointed out that the United States has not ignored the North Korean issue, but the US government has recently had more ink on the Taiwan issue because China is a great threat to the world.

Lin Yang said: "For the United States, China is a more threatened opponent. It is a global security concern. China also brings huge economic threats. From a global perspective, compared with North Korea, China has brought the United States to the United States. More challenges. Another thing to notice is that South Korea is quite prepared in the North Korean crisis, but Taiwan still needs to make more preparations. "

After a Chinese diplomat attempt to threaten a Canadian politician and his family in Ottawa, and then decided to list him as an unpopular person, Beijing returned to his teeth, and China and Canada had a storm of mutual diplomats. The Chinese Canadian member became a nail in Beijing because he proposed a motion in Congress to condemn China for the rude treatment of his ethnic minorities. The "War Wolf" diplomats of the claws and teeth have already tried to suppress the criticism and opponent of exile opponents in several countries, which aroused concern for China's diplomatic influence.

Australian Minister of Trade Farrell said he was "happy" about the talks in the elimination of trade barriers in China, saying that this visit was a "another step" in stabilizing Sino -Australian relations.

Reuters reported that Farrell said on Friday (May 12) and the Minister of Commerce of China Wang Wentao. At a press conference, "(this visit) is taken on the road to stabilize the relationship between China and Australia. One step ... I came here to create a way to make the trade and economic relations between Australia and China normally. "

With the gradual stability of China -Australia's diplomatic relations, Beijing allowed four Chinese companies to be transported into Australian coal in January, and the two countries have now fully restored coal trade.

Earlier on Friday, Farrell told Wang Wentao in the opening speech of the 16th Ministerial Economic Joint Conference: "We can see the benefits of the"

China -Australia Free Trade Agreement "to Australian Chinese enterprises and consumers in 2015 ", "

After the meeting with Wang Wentao, Farrell said: "I am very happy to confirm that we agree to strengthen dialogue under the free trade agreement and other platforms to solve the problem that has not been resolved."

Farrer also revealed that he had issued an invitation to Australia to Wang Wentao, and Wang Wentao accepted the proposal.

Sino -Australian relations have deteriorated since 2017. At that time, Australian Prime Minister Morrison called on April 2020 to call on the international community to conduct investigations on the traceability of crown diseases, which has worsening Australia -China relations. China will restrict the losses of Australian coal, red wine, barley, lobster and other products. However, since the Labor government came to power in May 2022, Australia - China relations have been gradually repaired.

This is the first face -to -face meeting since China and Australia's Minister of Trade.

The Russian Ministry of Defense issued a statement saying that the preliminary survey showed that the crash was caused by mechanical failure.

The statement mentioned: "A MI-28 helicopter crashed during a booked training flight in the Djankoi area today. Two pilots were killed."

The helicopter did not carry ammunition and did not cause damage to the ground. MI-28 is a multi-functional military helicopter that can launch a devastating attack.

Russia merged Crimea from Ukraine in 2014 and regarded Crimea as a springboard for military operations against Ukraine in February 2022. Russia claims that several drones or missile attacks have been retired recently in Crimea.

In August 2022, a bullet library in Crimea exploded and destroyed the Occupy Coy Military Base. At that time, Russia claimed that it was deliberately destroyed.

Ukraine said in March this year that Crimea had an explosion that destroyed the Kalibr cruise missile, but this statement was denied by Moscow.

Hui Neng Technology is the latest company that announced the settlement of HAUTS-De-France. It will invest 5.2 billion euros (approximately NT $ 174.3 billion) in Dunkirk. After the local steel industry and mining have begun to go downhill, many towns have been struggling to fight against downturn for decades.

ACC, which is composed of car manufacturer Stellantis, Mercedes, and Totalenergies, decided to set up a factory in Billy-Berclau; China and the ENVISION, a Japanese cooperation, chose Douai to invest in Douai, about 30 kilometers south of Lille; French company Verkor also chose Dunkirk with deep sea port.

Gilles Normand, Executive Deputy President of Huineng International Development, said in a statement in the announcement of the new plant today: "It can be said that there is a developmental battery ecosystem in northern France."

French President Emmanuel Macron went to Dunkirk in person today. This is a good opportunity he emphasized that the government has emphasized that the government has tried to restore France to industrialization. For decades, French employment opportunities have been decreasing and flowing to China and other countries with lower costs.

45 -year -old Machong was an investment banker and has a pro -businessman. Since taking office in 2017, he has successively promoted tax cuts, relaxation of labor laws, and launched investment rewards measures, hoping to reduce the unemployment rate and attract corporate investment.

When he visited a aluminum factory, he said: "I am proud to say that in a job market that has been closed for decades, we are re -letting the factory open and realize industrialization."

He also announced that the French nuclear company ORANO and Chinese lithium battery manufacturer XTC will invest in Dunkirk a new 1.5 billion euros (about NT $ 5.6 billion) to produce cathode parts for lithium batteries.

According to the information provided by Markhong's office, over 40 years, France has lost an average of 50,000 industrial employment opportunities each year.

The French District was once a French industrial town, and it is one of the main producing areas of fabrics, coal, steel and cars. Even if the factory has been closed one after another, the automobile manufacturing industry remains; according to the Nord Franceinvest data of the North French Investment Promotion Agency, this area is now the largest source of French cars.

There are currently 7 car manufacturers setting up in Frank France, including Toyota, Renault, and Strandis, and there are dense component supplier networks. This is the active of battery manufacturers active One of the main reasons for setting up a base nearby.

The French "Le Monde" reported that Xavier Bertrand, chairman of the Council of France, said: "This is a strategy to establish a one -stop industry in the industry. In recent years, the unemployment rate has fallen sharply. In the final season of 2022, it was 8.7%, but it was still 7% higher than the national average.

It has always been the area with the highest local poverty rate in France. According to the French National Bureau of Statistics and Economic Research (Insee) in 2018, 18% of the local population lives below the poverty line.

The construction of a series of new battery factories is being prepared in Europe. While hits in Europe, it is facing fierce competition from the United States and China. After several months of uncertainty, NorthVolt announced today that it will invest billions of euros to invest in the construction of an electric vehicle battery plant in northern Germany to provide a great driving force for energy transformation. "Germany can expect one of the two important energy and transportation transformation programs," said Robert Habeck, saying thousands of green science and technology work opportunities. "NorthVolt and German authorities stated in the statement that the so -called so -called so -called The super factory will be able to provide batteries for about 1 million electric vehicles each year and will create 3,000 job opportunities in Heide in Schleswig-Holstein in Schleswig-Holstein. The NORTHVOLT factory is expected to start this year and began to deliver batteries in 2026.

On the other hand, Hui Neng will invest 5.2 billion euros (NT $ 174.3 billion) in northern France, which is the first factory in Europe in Europe. Hui Neng hopes to start production by the end of 2026, and gradually expands after having 3,000 employees in a few years.

When the capacity is full, it can supply batteries for hundreds of thousands of vehicles. Hui can focus on the development of the "solid -state" battery. This battery is considered to be more effective, safer, and faster than the lithium - ion batteries commonly used in electric vehicles.

Hui Neng said that because many electric vehicle factories are located in Northern Europe, it is decided to settle in Dunkirk because it can also be close to customers.

EU chief foreign policy officials said that a plan to reduce China's economy has received support from EU Foreign Ministers. What must be discussed next is how to achieve this goal.

Reuters reported that the EU Foreign Minister met in Stockholm on Friday (May 12) to discuss how to reduce Europe's dependence on China. Bollyi, a senior representative of EU diplomacy and security policy, told the media after the meeting that the EU Foreign Minister widely supported the adjustment of the planning plan for China. While paying more attention to China as a political opponent, it continued to regard Beijing as a partner and the economy who regarded Beijing as a global issue. Competitive rival.

Berrely said: "The dependence is too risky." He said: "EU colleagues welcomed the plans we submit. They agreed that we re -adjusted the basic route to China."

He pointed out that the EU must learn from the "strategic mistakes" committed by the EU before the outbreak of the Ukrainian war, that is, it is too dependent on Russia's natural gas.

Berrely said that the European Union now includes solar panels and key materials in terms of key technologies, which dependence on China is more dependent on Russia's energy.

He said: "Risk -risk is just a term. But behind this term represents a lot of work, we need a lot of time to review all economic relations between the European Union and China."

However, Borel emphasized that the purpose of the European Union is not to make the European and Chinese economy "decoupling", but to re -balance this relationship.

Lithuanian Foreign Minister Langzelis warned that even if the European Union did not want to be economically decoupled with China, it was necessary to prepare for this situation.

"We still need to prepare for decoupling situations -this is not what we want to happen, just like Russia (invasion of Ukraine), and it is not what we are determined to create, such as the Taiwan Strait. The status quo is changed by force. "

EU officials will start to improve a proposal to reduce the dependence on China's economy, and then submit to EU leaders. EU leaders are expected to discuss Chinese issues at the June summit.

(Voice of Germany Chinese) China is about to hold the first large -scale international sports event since the cancellation of the "Clear Zero" policy, becoming the beginning of the elite sports event to return to China after the epidemic.

Apart from In addition, after the outbreak of the epidemic in China at the end of 2019, almost all international sports events were stopped in China.

Subsequently, the world's sports organizations are eager to re -hold events in this world's second largest economy to win rich profits.

After the epidemic, almost all international sports events were stopped in China, but in early 2022, the Beijing Winter Olympics (pictured) was held in the "Bubble"

International Sports Competition Return to China

The Suderman Cup Group Championship is one of the world's largest badminton events and will kick off on Sunday (May 14) in Suzhou.

The International Women's Tennis Tournament (WTA) and the Men's Professional Tennis Tournament (ATP) will return to China later this year, and the Hangzhou Asian Games, which was postponed last year, will also be held in autumn.

The main track and field games and Snooker are also treated. However, Shanghai's first -level equations will not be held until next year. The return of the golf game is still in the arrangement.

"The epidemic is not easy for anyone to us in the past few years." Poul-Erik Hoyer-Larsen, chairman of the World Badminton Federation, said that it was a "important moment" to return to China.

Lason said: "China has such an active connection with badminton. We missed the opportunity to host the Chinese Championship for so many months, which is simply strange."

Tennis will return to China on a large scale since September.

On Monday, the Men's Professional Tennis Tournament (ATP) team celebrated the beginning of the "new era", because it launched the expanded version of the Shanghai Masters, raised the bonus and made it the richest sports event in Asia.

Chinese athletes are full of confidence

During the epidemic, most sports competitions in China continued under strict epidemic prevention measures.

The defending champion China is the most successful team in the history of the Sudyman Cup, and has won 12 times.

"Despite the challenge of the epidemic, badminton is still continuing to develop and prosper in China." He pointed out that the number of professional and amateur players is increasing. "

Poul-Erik Hoyer-Larsen Chairman of the World Badminton Federation

He said: "The number of badminton fans has also increased, and their love for badminton is the same as ever, which can be seen from the popularity of the Chinese team and stars."

Huang Yaqiong, a Chinese badminton team, said that they are glad to play at home. "Our feelings are the same as fans," she said in the group stage in March. "This is the first large -scale event held in China after the epidemic. I hope we can play a wonderful game."

The Chinese team will play against the European Champions Denmark, African Champion Egypt and Singapore in Group A.

Huang Yaqiong's partner Zheng Siwei said that they participated in this well-known event and they were confident in their strength. "I think we are still very competitive in each single competition and have confidence to defeat any opponent." Zheng Siwei said, "All we have to do is to release ourselves."

In other countries outside China, only two countries have won the Sudyman Cup championships four times and Indonesia once.

But Lason does not rule out the possibility of bursting. He said: "With the improvement of badminton levels in many countries, and the recent emergence of several new faces, it may now be a new championship."

According to the final edition bulletin draft of the Minister of Finance of the Seven Kingdoms Group (G7) and the Central Bank President Meeting, G7 Financial Leaders agreed Movement plan.

The G7 Finance Minister and the Central Bank President Meeting will be released on Saturday (May 13).

According to the draft bulletin, the uncertainty of the global economic prospects has intensified, and the G7 Treasury Secretary calls on countries to "maintain vigilance, flexibility and elasticity when formulating guidance policies.

The draft bulletin was not mentioned as a negotiation deadlock in the US federal debt.

Regarding the issue of banking systems, the draft bulletin stating that the financial regulatory reform implemented after the global financial crisis in 2008 ensured the "toughness" of the financial system.

G7 Finance Ministers and Central Bank President promised in the draft bulletin that "will resolve the loopholes in data, regulation and administrative regulations in the banking system."

The three -day G7 Treasury Secretary and the President of the Central Bank were held in Niigata in Japan. China is the focus of discussion at the meeting. Japan's rotating chairman of the G7 summit, Japan, is working hard to achieve diversified supply chain and reduce serious dependence on China.

Rights defendant Guo Feixiong was sentenced to eight years of imprisonment in Guangzhou

(Voice of Germany Chinese website) On May 11, Guo Feixiong (name Yang Maodong), a well-known human rights defender in China (name Yang Maodong) in China again, Essence Since 1989, Guo Feixiong has participated in various democratic protests and rights protection activities, and has been in prison for 11 years.

According to reports, Guo Feixiong was convicted by the court to "incite the crime of subverting the state power", and its "criminal facts" were long-term writing and publishing articles on the Internet. Article, a system of interviews with Radio Asian Radio in Liberty Asia when the outbound outbound was blocked on January 27, 2021, a system of attacking and slandering Chinese politics for a long time.

In other words, this is a complete "crime of speech". Just because of some articles and accepted some media interviews, he was sentenced to eight years. This absurd reality that happened in the 21st century was staged in a place called "court".

"Degrees without the yin and yang"

Especially cruel is that one of the "criminal speech" is And a pair of young children.

In January 2021, Guo Feixiong published the "Emergency Call for China's Supreme Leaders" and said that his wife's life was high after cancer surgery. Essence He resorted to people's common sense: "My wife's actuality caused me to hurt my heart and lungs, and every day I was tortured. Every day I was tortured. Everyone and servant were also husbands. The authorities' response was to prevent him from boarding at Shanghai Pudong Airport.

In November 2021, Guo Feixiong issued an open letter to the Chinese leader again, asking him to leave him out of the country to visit his wife. The authorities' response was detained by him. On January 10, 2022, Zhang Qing died in the United States. Two days later, Essence

On January 16, 2022, experts, scholars, human rights lawyers and disagreements from all over the world participated in Zhang Qing's online recognition meeting. The remembrance of the conjunction wrote: "Acacia is not desperate, and the tyranny is separated from yin and yang."

Pocket crime of criticism

Guo Feixiong, like many Chinese human rights defenders, hopes to promote China's politics out of dictatorship and embark on the path of democracy and rule of law. However, due to the strict control of the Chinese authorities in society, they were almost blocked, detained and sentenced when they just made remarks. Most of the so -called "criminal facts" of "crime of subverting state power" are articles or reports that ordinary Chinese cannot read.

Current affairs commentator, author of this article Changping

The law of "inciting the crime of subverting the state power" stipulates that the current paragraph 2 of the Criminal Law currently in China refers to the act of "inciting the subversion of rumors, defamation or other methods to incite the subversion of the state power and overthrow the socialist system." Article 104 of the Criminal Law stipulates that the "armed rebellion and riots" include "organizational, planning, implementation" and other behaviors. Therefore, in legal interpretation and judicial practice, "sin" is a naked "crime of peaceful speech". Because there is no concepts such as "subversion", "overturning", and what is the "socialist system", this crime will become a "pocket crime" that can be used at will, which includes political and freedom politics that requires democracy and freedom to be free. Proposal also includes criticism of calling for reforms in the system. Chinese legal scholars and human rights defenders have repeatedly called for the abolition of the crime of remarks.

Guo Feixiong said in the court's defense words: "In all sectors of Chinese officials and people, there are almost no objections that, in view of my long - term speech stance and objective social impact, I am recognized as the main representative of the gentle rightists close to the middle zone in mainland China. One. "However, from the perspective of the authorities, his following sentence is already a political declaration of radicals:" First of all, I must declare that from December 1986, And political ideals have never changed: in China to completely realize the real free and democratic human rights rule of human rights. Four diplomats disclosed to Reuters that Groos, the director of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), plans to submit an agreement to protect the Ukraine Zaporizhzhia Nuclear Power Station to the United Nations Security Council within this month.

The plan was proposed by IAEA to Russia and Ukraine, showing that Russia and Ukraine had approached an agreement.

One of the diplomats believe that the Russia and Ukraine are "very promising" to ensure that the nuclear power plant is safely reached. Other diplomats said that Kiev, who has been working against IAEA's plans, now nodded now, but Russia's position is not clear.

A diplomatic officer said that Gronci plans to submit the plan to the Security Council this month, but the submission date has not been determined, and it is said that Griecis is contacted by the President of the Security Council this month.

Four diplomatic officials also said that Gronci will outline the "principle" of the Zapolo Nuclear Power Station to the Security Council. These principles should be supported by Russia and Ukraine.

The Zapolo Nuclear Power Station was the largest nuclear power plant in Europe. Russia had controlled the nuclear power plant shortly last year.

In order to reduce the risk of Russian and Ukraine's conflict caused by catastrophic nuclear accidents, Groass has been striving to reach an agreement with Moscow and Kiev for several months.

Ukraine is preparing to launch a counterattack against Russia, which means that the battle near the Zapolo Nuclear Power Plant and its six reactors may increase.

The Zapolo Nuclear Power Station has repeatedly passed the power out of power due to the bombardment nearby. It is necessary to keep the reactor cooling with the help of external power supply to avoid melting. Moscow and Kiev have always accused each other responsible for the bombing around the nuclear power plant.

On May 12, the EU Foreign Minister held an informal meeting in Stockholm (Voice of German in Chinese) The EU's 27 EU Foreign Minister held a meeting in Stockholm on Friday (May 12) to discuss how to amend the relationship with Beijing, including reducing the EU's economic dependence on China and responding to security challenges. Given that a stronger Beijing impact on the world stage, Brussels calls on EU member states to reach an agreement on how to deal with China.

At a conference hosted by Sweden, Josep Borrell, the head of the European Union's foreign policy, submitted a document to the EU Foreign Minister to outline the necessity of "definition" and "re-calibration of China's position".

"Considering China's recent evolution and its foreign policy trajectory, they agreed to re-adjust our basic policies for China."

Berrely said that the EU maintains its existing views on China and believes that China is a partner, competitors and opponents. He also emphasized that in the face of fundamental different values and economic systems and seeking to reduce EU dependence, contact with Beijing is still important.

He said that the adjustment policy is not to "decide" in Europe and this world's second largest economy, but to balance this relationship.

China is the EU's largest imported trade partner. According to the European Union Commission statistics, China's imports in 2022 were 20.8%. In some key raw materials, China has almost occupied a monopoly position.

German Foreign Minister Belbak and other senior diplomats believe that the EU must learn lessons from past errors and re-examine relations with China.

Belbak said that the past situation showed that this hope that strong economic relations can provide security may be deceived. In the past, the European Union believed that Russia, which reached a billion US dollar natural gas order with the EU, would not risk fighting against Ukraine.

Lithuania Foreign Minister Gabrieliuslandsbergis also put forward a similar point of view, calling on EU peers to make mistakes when dealing with Beijing. He said on Friday: "In some cases, we see that the trajectory has not changed and the habit has not changed."

Lans Bergis pointed out that some of the situations are not that we want to cut trade relations with China, but "but because of the development of the situation, for example, the status quo of the Taiwan Strait is changed by force."

He said that "China is establishing a new world order," the EU cannot become passive onlookers.

Belbak agrees to reduce the security risks composed of dependence, and calls on the EU to unite within and "confidently" use the EU's common market. "We are not the largest country in the world, but the European Union, as a whole, especially in Europe, naturally has a force and strength that we should not underestimate."

EU Foreign Minister Foreign Policy Borelli said that the EU Foreign Minister agreed to "re -calibrate" to China's position on China

Discussion around the Russian and Ukraine War

At a conference on Friday, the most urgent issue in the controversy was that China refused to condemn its intimate ally Russia to invade Ukraine or pressure Russia to stop attacking.

Berrey admits that in the continuous Ukraine conflict, European -China relations are tight because of China's position. He said, "If China does not push Russia to withdraw from Ukraine, the relationship between the European Union and China will not develop normally."

Brussels has been proposed , Angry Beijing.

While visiting Europe this week, Chinese Foreign Minister Qin Gang warned that if the EU implements any sanctions, China will "take necessary measures" to safeguard Chinese corporate rights and interests.

Qin Gang argued with the Ukraine issue with Belbak in Berlin. Belbak insisted that "neutral means standing on the side of the invaders."

On Friday, Belbak emphasized that the proposal was "not about economic sanctions", but to prevent "other countries from transporting war supplies to Russia."

When visiting China last month, French President Macron torn a crack in the European Union. He said that the European Union should not follow the US policy automatically and should avoid "not our crisis."

Macron's speech was fiercely criticized by the European allies, and the latter regarded the United States as a security guarantee against Russia.

Paweljablonski, deputy minister of Foreign Affairs, said on Friday that "any destruction of international law" or "worsening" attempts should be "decisive". He also emphasized that the EU does not rely on the importance of China and will compare it with Europe's dependence on Russia's energy.

"We should not let ourselves depend on any country in the future. We should find a way to become partners rather than customers."

DW Conflict Zone: What is the plan for the European Union if Beijing attacks Taiwan?

Qin Gang: Central and EU should be opposed to the "New Cold War" together

At the same time, Chinese Foreign Minister Qin Gang appealed to Europe and China to oppose the "New Cold War" when visiting Norway on Friday.

Qin Gang said that "the" New Cold War "will only bring greater disasters, seriously damage the interests of the people and the people of the Chinese and European peoples, and seriously impact multilateralism and global governance."

"Central and EU should be opposed to the" New Cold War ", take the lead in promoting the coordination and benign interaction of great powers, and use strength and resources to promote common development and prosperity."

He also emphasized that "China is a partner for risk challenges in Europe, and China exports insurance instead of risks to Europe and the world."

At the EU Foreign Minister Conference on Stockholm on Friday, the goal is not to reach any specific conclusion, and the debate around China will continue at the June Leader Summit.

EU ministers will hold meetings with their peers in the Asia -Pacific region on Saturday to continue discussing Chinese issues.

Agence France -Presse pointed out that with the turn of the talks to security issues, including the tension of the Taiwan Strait, Beijing will once again become a "elephant in the room", which means that although it is obviously a collective and avoiding it. But a senior EU official said that the conference focused on "establishing partnerships."

The Portuguese Congress passed the euthanasia bill, the fastest autumn takes effect

Description: (Agence France -Presse Lisbon on the 12th) After a long argument, Portugal Parliament passed the bill today to allow suffering and terminally ill people to accept euthanasia. At present, only a few countries in the world have implemented legal euthanasia.

Videos: []

Images: "[000000.png"]

Portugal is deeply influenced by Catholic beliefs, and society has a serious disagreement on euthanasia. The conservative president of the devotion, Marcelo Rebelo de Sousa, has repeatedly opposed it.

According to the new law provisions, if the person over 18 years old is ill and is unbearable, it will be required to assist death.

The new law only allows people who are in good mental state and "long - term" to endure "unbearable" pain to accept euthanasia.

The new law only allows Portuguese citizens and legal residents to apply, and does not expand to those foreigners who seek suicide in Portugal.

The Portuguese Parliament has passed the euthanasia bill 4 degrees in three years, but because of the opposition of President Desha, he was returned to the constitutional review each time.

The ruling Socialist Party (PS) has absolutely mastered the majority of Congress. With the support of the Socialist Party, it finally passed the final version of the bill today.

The Portuguese media mentioned that Disha is now promulgating the new law for a week. The fastest autumn is effective in the new law.

Dezsha had previously rejected the previous bill on the grounds of "extremely inaccurate concept", and then said that words used to describe the end -stage condition are still contradictory and must be clarified. Now the new law stipulates that only when "patients are unlikely to take medical assistance to commit suicide due to physical disorders", euthanasia is allowed.

However, in Portugal, the debate about medical assistance to death is far from over.

Paulosantos, a member of Right To Die with Dignity, said that Portugal passed the speed of euthanasia faster than other countries, and many doctors may not execute it on the grounds of morality, just like 2007 in 2007 After the legalization of abortion, "the resistance encountered by euthanasia is likely to be greater."

Those who oppose medical assistance to commit suicide regret for this issue without the decision of the citizen's vote. They hope that the opposition members can once again ask the Constitutional Court to review the bill.

There are only a few countries in the world that euthanasia and assist in suicide, including the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Spain.

After Guo Feixiong was sentenced, he also published the tens of thousands of defense words prepared during the detention through the pipeline.

(Voice of German in Chinese) Guo Feixiong, a well-known right protection person in China Related news not only caused criticism from human rights groups, but also issued a statement with the multinational governments and the United Nations to condemn the results of the judgment. In addition to the results of the judgment of Guo Feixiong's case, his family also criticized the Chinese government's approach to "eliminate conscience" when receiving DW interviews, and insisted that Guo Feixiong's charges were "unnecessary."

His sister Yang Maoping said to Germany on the 13th that because Guo Feixiong asked her not to attend the trial on Thursday, she reposted online news through her friend that Guo Feixiong was sentenced to 8 years in prison. She said, "I was shocked after hearing this verdict. My brother was because he was struggling to go to the United States to see his sick wife Zhang Qing at that time. After a long waiting year, he was worried that he could not see his wife in time. Break through the authorities, but Essence "

Yang Maoping said that after Guo Feixiong was arrested, the Chinese authorities began to "list various crimes". On January 12, 2022, that is, Guo Feixiong's wife Zhang Qing was two days after the death of cancer. "Regime" was officially arrested. She mentioned: "Five days after his wife died, I asked the people who supervised him why they did not let Guo Feixiong go to see his wife, but the authorities claimed that" who knows so fast ", and then told me that Guo Feixiong was arrested. When I asked them what was charged, they said "there will be crimes in the future."

According to the news provided by Yang Maoping and Guo Feixiong, during the sentence of Guangzhou court on the 11th, Guo Feixiong said that Guo Feixiong wrote and published articles on the Internet for a long time, and created the World Constitutional Democratic Forum in 2020 to continue publishing the institutional articles written by himself and others. January 2021 On the 27th, he accepted an interview with Radio Free Asia when he was blocked. He was sentenced to a long -term attack and slandering Chinese politics, so he sentenced him to related crimes.

After Guo Feixiong was sentenced, he also published the tens of thousands of defense words prepared during the detention through the pipeline. He wrote in the defense words: "What I must declare is that from the first participation in the academic tide in December 1986 to this day, my political claims and political ideals have never changed: This is the original, fundamental, fundamental intentional intention of social ideological and academic activities and political activities. "

Guo Feixiong said that from 2005 to 2019, he was sentenced to four sentences and twice in prison by the Chinese authorities from 2005 to 2019. The total imprisonment time was "11 years and 123 days." He said: "These ideological and academic activities of my thoughts are basic citizenship and political rights such as freedom of speech, freedom of ideological, and academic freedom in dignitaries. The positive, positive, extensive and deeply spread the universal value concept, and the humanistic enlightenment of all Chinese citizens, including the people and the officials, which is the truth, and the awakening of the awareness of the sovereignty and rights of the generation of people. Push the power. "

"People who do things with their ideals"

Guo Feixiong's real name Yang Maodong, he used to be Important participants and one of the leaders. In 2006, he called on the international community to suppress the Chinese government to suppress the Falun Gong group and actively promote the rescue lawyer Gao Zhisheng. After being released, in 2013, he also asked Chinese officials to disclose property and was identified as one of the relevant activities by the Chinese government as one of the organizations. 6 years.

His sister Yang Maoping told DW that Guo Feixiong has been a learning person since he was a child. Since studying, he has been following his ideal life. She said, "He never cares about the material, is a very noble person. Although we don't support what he does later, what he does is justice. Although what he does is not consistent with the mainstream, he does not match the mainstream. But he didn't do something wrong. The sufferings he suffered made us very heartache and distress. "

Long -term attention to the situation of Guo Feixiong's case and the human rights situation of Chinese human rights situation, Zhou Feng Suo, the chairman of the Chinese human rights situation, emphasized that before the sentence was sentenced, Guo Feixiong had caused his family to "wife away" due to two jails. In fact, in China, they live in a very low -key way, and they are not like there are rooms that can promote social activities in the past. He said: "Guo Feixiong was sentenced to 8 years in prison because of his request to visit his dangerous wife.

Yang Maoping revealed to DW that because Guo Feixiong was arrested this time, he has been on a hunger strike, so his weight has dropped from 67.5 to 75 kg to 45 kg. She said, "After my elder brother attended the trial this time, he said that Guo Feixiong had" deformed ". Although he has not yet had other diseases, his chewing and swallowing function have been degraded after a hunger strike. I am very worried about His health. "

Guo Feixiong's children are affected

After Guo Feixiong was arrested three times, his wife Zhang Qing died of illness in January 2022, his two children were also greatly affected by life. Yang Maoping told DW that Guo Feixiong's son was originally the first grade of college, but after Zhang Qing's death, he left school to live. She said, "He didn't do anything for more than a year after school. Although he and his sister did not see Guo Feixiong for more than ten years, he was bleak with his father's emotions, but because of Zhang Qing's influence, he was still affected by Zhang Qing. Very emotional. He often wrote to his father through me, and I would also transfer Guo Feixiong's letter to them. But because he was more introverted, and because he had never seen his dad herself, Guo Feixiong was The sentence of sentence is a great blow to him. "

Yang Maoping said that because Guo Feixiong has been arrested this time, he has been on a hunger strike, and his weight has dropped from 67.5 to 75 kg to 45 kg.

In fact, because the families of most rights protection lawyers or disagreements continue to face government threats in China, many wives of rights protection lawyers will eventually be forced to take their children in exile overseas. However, because most of the rights protection lawyers or disagreements expire, most of them will face the exit ban imposed by the Chinese government, which also causes families of most rights protection lawyers to face long -term unable to gather after their wives and children choose to exile overseas.Zhou Fengsuo called on the international community to continue to voiced cases of the government's detained or sentenced by the government, because in view of the Chinese government's influence in the international community in recent years, they will pose a threat to the world. He said: "In the past few years, some countries led by the United States have begun to wake up and have a relatively clear and pragmatic view on the Chinese government. But I still want to remind people who do business with the CCP. Maintain this regime and help them to do evil. I hope Guo Feixiong's case can make the world realize this. "

He added that in the case of a number of disagreements including Xu Zhiyong, Ding Jiaxi and Guo Feixiong, the Chinese government was facing an unprecedented challenge in the case of heavy sentences of the Chinese government. He said: "Whether it is the power of the state machine or the fineness of the CCP's high -tech, it is difficult for a few people tracked by the Chinese authorities to gather in the current circumstances. However It is difficult to last. So no matter how miserable the Chinese authorities 'suppression of the disagreements, many people will try to seek freedom."

Former executives charged byte beating as the "propaganda tool" of the Chinese government [] Reuters pictures

On Friday, a former executive who was fired by ByteDance and fired put forward a series of allegations to this technology giant, including competitors, such as Instagram and Snapchat. The content is suppressed or promoted to act as the "propaganda tool" of the Chinese government.

According to the Associated Press, the above -mentioned allegations are part of Yin Tao (transliteration) part of the improper firing lawsuit against byte beating. In the engineering department of the Ministry of Engineering, who had been a byte to beat the American business between August 2017 and November 2018, he claimed that he was fired after disclosing the company's "improper behavior".

He accused the Chinese government monitoring his work at the Beijing headquarters in bytes and providing guidance on how to promote the "socialist core values". He also said that government officials have the ability to close the Chinese version of Douyin platform and retain the channels for all data entering the company, including information stored in the United States.

For security concerns, the US military, the federal government, and more than half of the federal state have implemented the use of Tiktok to use the installation of public equipment and instruments. Similar measures have taken effect in the European Union, New Zealand and Canada. Many members of the United States Congress are trying to promote social media applications owned by the Chinese company's bytes beating on the grounds of national security.

According to the New York Times, Yin Tao was 36 years old and grew up in China. He currently lives in San Francisco, USA. In an interview, he said that during his tenure, U.S. user data on Tiktok was stored in the United States, but engineers in China can access it.

He also said that during the byte beating, he had worked at the company's office in China for a while, and witnessed how the engineers of the Chinese version of Douyin adjusted the algorithm, pushing up the popularity of the emotional content of Qiuri, and they were the inferiority, and they were they were. Do not hesitate to do this without any debate.

In terms of byte beating, the New York Times statement responded to a statement that "we will strongly oppose the lawsuit that we think it is an unsatisfactory allegations and claims." The statement also stated that Mr. Yu worked for less than a year in byte beating, and his employment relationship ended in July 2018. During his brief working hours, he participated in the development of an application called Flipagram, which had stopped operating due to business reasons a few years ago.

The lawsuit against Yin Tao's beating by byte was represented by a lawyer who specializes in hiring disputes in San Francisco. The technology company asked him to pay his income loss, punitive compensation, and he did not belong to his 220,000 byte beating shares when he was fired. (Responsible editor: (:)

June 2022 G7 Leader Summit was held in Germany Reuters pictures

The 7th Industrial Group this year(G7)Leaders' summit will be held in Hiroshima, Japan from May 19th to 21st. It is reported that in addition to focusing on Russia's invasion of Ukraine this year, the topic related to China is another important focus of this summit. Reuters quoted a U.S. officials discussed before the conference revealed that at the summit opened next week, a statement on "Economiccoercion" in China will be issued around the world.

According to the report, this statement may be part of the common communiqué, and it is also a plan to cooperate about how the G7 countries will cooperate to resist the "economic coercion" from any country.

The official also revealed that the seven -nation leader summit stated that it will cover the "part specifically targeted at China", listing a specific list of economic coercion and other acts from China.

U.S. Financial Minister Yellen Tip, the United States has been considering countermeasures for Beijing's compulsory economic policies in other countries' markets.

According to the news on the 13th of Kyodo News Agency, it is planned to stimulate "G7's compulsory measures to fight economy to achieve strong toughness and fair competition in the supply chain" issued by the head statement and attachment issued on the last day of the summit on the 21st day of the summit. Japan's Prime Minister Kishita Mo Shimo made a request from all over the country, hoping that the G7 was the core to show a clear position for China.

According to the reports of the Kyodo News, specifically, in terms of semiconductor, important minerals and agricultural products, it will strengthen the mechanism to get rid of China and Russia. After a collision occurred near Jian Ge's islands (China known as Diaoyu Islands) in 2010, it has greatly restricted the exit of rare earth. In recent years, pineapple produces pineapples in Taiwan, and has also imposed tariff sanctions on Australian wine.

G7 countries include Japan, the United States, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Canada, and Italy. The current leaders of these countries plan to fly to Japan to participate in the summit next week.

The EU Foreign Minister's informal meeting held at Stockholm, Sweden, was shot on May 13, 2023. Reuters Picture/Christine Olsson/TT News Agency

27 EU member countries held a meeting in Stockholm on Friday to discuss how to amend the relationship with Beijing, including reducing the EU's economic dependence on China and responding to security challenges. Given that a stronger Beijing impact on the world stage, Brussels calls on EU member states to reach an agreement on how to deal with China.

According to the news on the 13th, at a meeting hosted by Sweden, the EU foreign policy leader JosePborll submitted a document to the Foreign Minister of Foreign Minister of the EU, outlined the "definition" and "re -calibrating the position of China". necessity.

"Considering China's recent evolution and its foreign policy trajectory, they agreed to re -adjust our basic policies for China."

Berrelly said that the EU maintains its existing views on China and believes that China is a partner, competitors and opponents. He also emphasized that in the face of fundamental different values and economic systems and seeking to reduce EU dependence, contact with Beijing is still important.

He said that the adjustment policy is not to "decide" Europe and this world's second largest economy, but to balance this relationship.

China is the EU's largest imported trade partner. According to the European Union Commission statistics, China's imports in 2022 were 20.8%. In some key raw materials, China has almost occupied a monopoly position.

Senior foreign officials such as German Foreign Minister Bell Berbak believe that the EU must learn lessons from past errors and re -examine relations with China.

Lithuanian Foreign Minister Gabrieliuslandsbergis also put forward a similar point of view, calling on the EU to make mistakes when dealing with Beijing. He said that "China is establishing a new world order," the EU cannot become passive onlookers.

Bell Berk agrees to reduce the security risks composed of dependence, and calls on the EU to unite within and "confidently" use the EU's common market. "We are not the largest country in the world, but the European Union, as a whole, especially the single market in Europe, naturally has a force and strength that we should not underestimate."

At a conference on Friday, the most urgent issue in the controversy was that China refused to condemn its intimate ally Russia to invade Ukraine or pressure Russia to stop attacking.

Berrey admits that in the continuous Ukraine conflict, European -China relations are tight because of China's position. He said, "If China does not promote Russia to withdraw from Ukraine, the relationship between the European Union and China will not develop normally."

Paweljablonski, deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs, said on Friday that "any destruction of international law" or "worsening" attempts should be "decisive". He also emphasized that the EU does not rely on the importance of China and will compare it with Europe's dependence on Russia's energy.

"We should not let ourselves depend on any country in the future. We should find a way to become partners rather than customers."

At the same time, Chinese Foreign Minister Qin Gang appealed to Europe and China to oppose the "New Cold War" when visiting Norway on Friday.

EU ministers will meet with their peers in the Asia -Pacific region on Saturday to continue discussing Chinese issues.

According to Agence France -Presse, with the turn of the talks to security issues, including the tension of the Taiwan Strait, Beijing will once again become an "elephant in the room", that is, the people present are important things that people who do not want to talk. But a senior EU officials said that the conference focused on "establishing partnerships."

The Christian of the Shenzhen May Flower Church arrived in Dallas, Texas, USA. Under the leadership of the May Flower Church, Pan Yongguang, the adults and children of the audience sang poems in the Bible many times. Reporter Wang Yun shot Shenzhen Reform Sacred Church, also known as about 60 members of the May Flower Church, is free to conservative religious beliefs and be relieved for persecution of religion. In 2019, they fled collectively. After more than three years, I moved to Jeju Island, South Korea, Thailand, and finally arrived at Dallas Airport in Texas, Texas, the Jesus, the Jesus of Christianity. The courage and will to pursue religious freedom are admirable, and the process of collecting collective escape is unpredictable. So what kind of suffering did they experience? Have you encountered danger of life? Can you get rid of the shadow of the Chinese government after leaving China?

In the previous program, we introduced the members of the May Flower Church in Thailand and was reported by insiders who were rejected by Chinese national security personnel. As a result, the temporary residence in the suburbs of Pattaya, Thailand was leaked. The thrilling journey; and from the process of transferring from Jeju Island to Thailand, a newborn baby could not get a passport and delayed the predicament of Jeju Island to Thailand.

In this show, we please listen to Rev. Pan Yongguang, Shenzhen May Flower Church, and introduce the difficult journey of members of the May Flower Church to Jeju Island. Then the believers of the May Flower Church arrived at Jeju Island, and their lives were unfamiliar and their language was not available. How did they find the place where they live and make a living? There is no hope for shelter application. How do they deal with? Is it worthy of such a big price to escape from China?

Pan Yongguang, a priest of the Shenzhen May Flower Church, introduced in an interview that in Jeju Island, South Korea, it was aid to the Korean pastor from mainland China to help them contact the place of the party, find a job to maintain their livelihoods, and find a place to live in their lives. Recalling the time of Jeju Island, Rev. Pan Yongguang said that the church members were working on farms, pulling radishes, cutting radish, and starting to bubble in their hands and feet because they were not used to. Only for several days to restore physical strength. Although the problem of clothing, food, and residence is resettled, the shelter application has not been settled, which makes believers extremely anxious. Pan Yongguang himself felt anxious and could not see hope. When walking, I often read the Bible Psalm 84, and sometimes crying to the Lord. Rev. Pan Yongguang also mentioned that he received attention and assistance when he desperate. Among them, the "Voice of the Martyr" "North and South Korea Branch, regularly visited them in Jeju Island, provided training to deal with the severe situation, and provided them with great help for their ultimately successfully reaching the United States.

Escape from such a big price, are you happy? Rev. Pan Yongguang said that after they arrived in Jeju Island, South Korea, although she was hopeless, she was no longer afraid of the party. This makes them feel extremely happy.

Italian Prime Minister Meloni welcomes Ukrainian President Zeleki in the official residence to visit (Voice of Germany Chinese) Ukraine President Zelei Sky on Saturday (May 13) took the Italian government plane in the morning, flying from the Polish Telshv on the border near the Ukraine to Rome. Andriyyermak. Italian Foreign Minister Tiani(My antonion)Welcome to the airport to visit. According to ANSA, the Ukraine Ambassador to Italy, Yaroslavmelnyk and the Italian Ambassador to Ukraine, also took over at the airport.

Shortly after arriving in Italy, Zelei wrote on Twitter: "This is an important visit to the victory of Ukraine."

Zelei was escorted by the team to the President of Italian President's Palace. Italian President Matarera greeted Zerrenzki in the courtyard. The two entered the Presidential Palace for private talks after the national anthem of the two countries. Matarera told Zelleiski in his speech on the Italian National Television that Italy fully supported Ukraine to resist Russia's invasion.

This trip was for the first time since Russia invaded Ukraine in February 2022.

Meloni: Support Ukraine to resist Russia's "barbaric and unfair aggression"

The Italian Prime Minister Meloni received Zelensky in Quirinal Palace in the afternoon. The two have worked together for lunch together.

Meloni held a press conference on Saturday afternoon. Meloni promised to fully support Ukraine's efforts to repel Russia's "barbaric and unfair aggression".

"We will support Ukraine at all the necessary moments, and will not call anything similar to invasion as 'peace'."

Meloni promised Italy to continue to provide weapons to Ukraine and support Ukraine if necessary. She also emphasized: "Only when Russia stops attacking can they achieve peace."

Meloni said that Rome showed Ukraine that he was a solid and trustworthy partner.

Although Roman and Moscow have friendly relations in history, after the outbreak of the Russian and Ukraine War, Italy has always been a strong supporter of Kiev, transport weapons and assistance, and support sanctions on Russia.

Zerrence will then go to the Vatican to talk to the Pope. Pope Fang Ji received the last time in the Vatican to receive Zellezki in February 2020. He has repeatedly called on Ukraine to pray for the victims of war almost every week.

On Saturday night, Zerrenji will be a well-known talk show "Porta A Porta" for the Italian National Television Rai.

Zerrenceki will visit Germany on Sunday

For a few weeks, all circles have speculated that Zeleius may go to Germany this weekend. This Sunday, the people of Zessky and Ukraine will be awarded the Charlieman Award (also known as the Karl Award) in Aachen, Western Germany.

German government sources revealed to the German Press on Saturday that Zelei Sky will visit Germany on Sunday, representing the Charlie Man Award on behalf of the Ukrainian people.

According to Germany, in order to welcome Zelei Sky, Rome took strict security measures on Saturday to deploy about 1,500 police force and security personnel to ensure the smooth progress of the visit. The airports, railway stations, and subways have been implemented with special safety inspections. A ban area is established over the city, including unmanned machines that cannot be lit up. Sniper alerts are deployed at the location where Zeski is expected to visit.

Germany announced that 2.7 billion euros of military assistance

Not long ago, the German government announced on Saturday that the German government announced a large -scale military assistance Ukraine plan on Saturday.

The Federal Ministry of Defense said that as part of a package plan, 20 Ukrainian weasel infantry chariots, 30 leopard 1 main battle tanks, and 4 IRIS-T-SLM air defense systems will be provided. The new military aid plan will make Germany's weapon assistance in Ukraine since the outbreak of the war.

The German government has previously approved the delivery of weapons with a total value of 2.75 billion euros. In this way, Germany will become the most important supporters of Ukraine in military and finance.

In response to the new military aid project, German Defense Minister Boris Pistorius said that through these valuable and urgent need for military supplies, Germany once again showed support for Ukraine.

He said that everyone hoped that the Russian's terrible and violated war against the people of Ukraine ended early. Unfortunately, the war has not yet seen, so "as long as it is needed", "as long as it is necessary", Germany will provide everything possible for everything. help.

The green belt in Chengdu will be transferred to farmland. Network picture/ancient pavilion provided

Recently, the Chinese government launched a special operation of the "Stable Grain Supply" of the National Agricultural Comprehensive Administrative Law Enforcement in 2023, that is, the implementation of "retreating forests and returning farming" in various places. A large number of trees planted under the guidance of the "Returning Powding Return to Forest" were cleared overnight, and the original forest land became arable land. For example, Chengdu will flatten the green belt of tens of billions of yuan, and it is planned to build the same area into 100,000 acres of farmland within three years. In addition, a large number of "agricultural management" were sent all over the place. With the assistance of local officials and police, they went to the fields and asked farmers to stop planting crops and change their cultivated land. Judging from the videos circulating on social media, agricultural management in various places often ignores farmers' wishes to force farmers' non-grain crops. For example, on April 23, the police and the agricultural management team eliminated more than 6,000 acres of tobacco leaves. In addition, there are many farmers such as bamboo, fruit trees, and flowers in various places, which have suffered a lot of losses.

This operation originated from the documents released at the beginning of the year. On February 13 this year, the Central Government issued Document No. 1, emphasizing that it has been able to grasp the stable and safe supply of food and important agricultural products, and resolutely keep the 1.8 billion mu of cultivated land red line. Some observers believe that the outbreak of the outbreak and the Russian and Ukraine War in recent years have severely impacted the global food supply chain. In this context, food security has once again become an important issue for decision-making. In recent years, the relationship between China and the international community has continued to deteriorate, and the implementation of "retreating forests and returning farming" may also be prepared for potential food shortage in the future.

But is this sport-type approach really useful? I deeply doubt. In my opinion, China's food crisis is probably more serious than the outside world. It is entirely possible to appear new famines in China. One of the reasons is that the expansion of the planting area cannot fundamentally solve the grain problem. The focus is on the mechanism of allocating resources. This is not an agricultural issue or a political issue. According to the research of the Nobel Prize winner of Economic Ama, Amatia Sen's research on famine, famine occurred in modern society is not just because of food shortages. The more important reason is the unfairness of the food distribution mechanism, that is, people's legitimate rights have not obtained institutionality. Guarantee.

Although many famines did happen after the production of grain production, some famine occurred during the peak of grain output, such as the Bangladesh famine in 1974. In 1974, Bangladesh's grain output increased 13% over the previous year, and per capita grain output increased by 5.3%. However, due to the flood disasters that have occurred before, the local farmers were unable to sell their labor force to obtain employment opportunities, and the opportunity to obtain grain through transactions was greatly reduced. It seems that the real problem is not whether the food supply is sufficient, but whether the channels for people to obtain food are unobstructed. When people are not guaranteed to be hungry, it is not helpful for food to harvest again. Mori further concluded that in modern history, a democratic society with independent opposition parties and the media has never suffered a famine, and the place where famine occurred was because of lack of food.

The second reason for the risk of famine in China is that administrative intervention production must have no good results. U.S. political scientist James Scott, in his famous masterpiece "Perspective of the Country", argued in the case of failure in Germany, the Soviet Union, Brazil, Tanzania and other countries that the top -down planning project will only bring disaster. The most obvious example was the Great Famine in Ukraine in 1933 and the three-year famine that occurred in China in 1959-61. Use strongly to prevent farmers from self -rescue (forced food, preventing farmers from escaping waste, etc.). It can be seen from the simple thinking of retreating forests. Xi Jinping's idea of solving economic problems is still the way to use mass movements. The various disasters of the Mao era are the result of disregarding economic laws and basic humanity, and the result of administrative non -intervention. This old thinking will greatly limit the options for the CCP to face the crisis.

This semi -submarine submarine was intercepted on the way to Central America on May 9th. This is one of the most common routes for drug trafficking to the United States. The United States is the largest consumer country for Colombia Goche.

In the statement, the navy pointed out that the detained crew members were 45, 54, and 63 -year -old Columbians, who claimed that they were forced by the "drug trafficking organization" to drive the submarine to Central America.

Over the past 30 years, the Colombian Navy has seized 228 semi -submarine submarines carrying drugs. They will not completely sink underwater and are used by drug smugglers to avoid the investigation of the coast defense and other government units.

Some submarines were originally scheduled to go to the United States, while others were intercepted in the Atlantic Ocean on their way to Europe.

This is the largest brother -to -poisoning submarine seized since Columbia's record in 1993.

The Navy said that the coca -cocaisds that were seized this time were worth about $ 103 million in the drug trading market.

According to Agence France -Presse, Colombia is the largest manufacturing country in the world. The country's law stipulates that the use, construction, sales, ownership, or transportation of "poisonous submarines" will face a maximum sentence of 14 years.

According to the United Nations data, the planting area of the coca has expanded to 204,000 hectares in 2021, and Coco can be extracted from this plant.

This is the highest number since the monitoring area of Coca planting 21 years ago, and the output of Coco has also increased simultaneously, from 1010 tons in 2020 to 1,400 tons in 2021.

Japanese media said that the Seventh Kingdom Group (G7) rich countries will reach an agreement on the formulation of a new plan for developing countries to distribute vaccines in developing countries at the leadership summit next week.

Japan's "Yomiuri Shimbun" reported on Saturday (May 13) that according to the Japanese government sources, in addition to the G7 countries, the Twenty Group (G20) countries such as India and the World Health Organization (WHO) and the World Bank of the World Bank also Will participate in this new vaccine plan.

During the popularity of the crown disease, with the support of the WHO and Global Vaccine Immunization Alliance (Gavi), the Global acquisition mechanism (COVAX) of the Corruption vaccine provided nearly 2 billion doses of coronary vaccine to emerging countries.

However, the global acquisition mechanism of the coronary vaccine faces frustration in ensuring fair acquisition, because rich countries give priority to taking vaccines for their own citizens, and the insufficient storage facilities in poor countries have caused the vaccine supply to be postponed. The vaccine was abandoned.

The new vaccine plan of the G7 leader is designed to gather a plan for planning to plan for vaccine production and procurement, and invest in the training of low -temperature storage equipment and health personnel to prepare for the next global epidemic disease.

This year's G7 summit Rotating Chairman, Kika, hopes to strive for the support of emerging countries in the supply chain, food security and climate change to fight against the increasing influence of China and Russia.

The G7 Finance Minister and the Governor of the Central Bank agreed to provide assistance to low -income and middle -income countries in a meeting of the central bank to help improve their roles in the energy -related product supply chain.

Chinese issue expert Zeng Ruisheng said: "The Chinese economy will not collapse, but it will not return to the golden decade in the 2010s."

(Voice of Germany Chinese Network) With the crumbling edge of the other parts of the world on the edge of economic recession, Western decision makers do not want to see China -the biggest driving force of global economic growth since the 2008 financial crisis - It's uncertain. Unfortunately, this is what is happening.

After abandoning a strict zero -epidemic prevention policy in December last year, Essence

China 's imports in April were shrinking sharply by 7.9%, while export growth was only 8.5%, which was lower than 14.8%in March. In April, the increase in consumer prices was a new low of more than two years, and according to the prices provided by Chinese industrial wholesalers, the factory shipments have intensified.

At the same time, the decline in new bank loans in April exceeded expectations. The bank issued 718.8 billion yuan of new RMB loans that month, less than one -fifth of the total in March.

The golden age of China's economy is over?

"The Chinese economy will not collapse, but it will not return to the golden decade of double -digit growth in the 2010s." Steve Tsang, director of the China Research Center, director of the China Research Center of the University of London, told Germany.

If the Chinese economy rebounds strongly, it will help offset the stimulus of the central bank's currency tightening policy in the past 12 to 18 months in the past 12 to 18 months.

The huge stimulus plan introduced by China after the financial crisis from 2008-2009 helps the global economic recovery, partly because China has huge demand for imported raw materials for infrastructure projects.

However, these past stimulus measures have caused China to be trapped in debt quagmires. In March of this year, the International Monetary Fund warned that the debt of local government alone had risen to a record 6.6 trillion yuan, which was equivalent to half of China's GDP.

Zeng Ruisheng believes that those Western decision makers who hope to revive the economy now need to "look at new political and economic reality without wearing a chromosome."

After experiencing a huge architecture, China's unprecedented real estate is dragging down the housing market and inhibiting the overall growth threatened Taiwan to be isolated by the West by the West

Essence The friendly relationship between the Chinese government and Moscow and the "neutral" on the issue of invasion of Ukraine in Russia also brought risks to global economic cooperation.

"As far as the Taiwan issue is concerned, the upgrading of tensions or war will cause tremendous changes." Pushandutt, a professor of economics at the European School of Business, Singapore, told Germany that in that case, "multinational companies will withdraw from exit China, its export market will be closed, and the West will impose sanctions on it."

The tension between the Chinese government and Washington in the Trump era continued to the present, and the tit -for -tat tariff war led the United States to impose sanctions on several Chinese companies and some officials. Washington also restricts China's semiconductor and artificial intelligence (AI) technology on the grounds of national security.

Zeng Ruisheng pointed out that "Chinese President Xi Jinping's tough foreign policy has led to the decision or de -risk of the United States and other Western countries in the economic connection with China, which means that a key factor in supporting China's rapid growth is weakening."

© AFP/Getty Images

The International Monetary Fund believes that China will continue to be the biggest driving force for global economic growth in the next five years

Western decision makers are increasingly regarding China's "Belt and Road" initiative as a threat to their interests. The initiative invested 840 billion US dollars in more than 150 countries/regions to build roads, bridges, ports and hospitals. More and more people are worried that the project has led developing countries to the debt trap with huge loans that cannot be afforded and weaken their relationship with Western countries.

Last month, the European Central Bank Chide Lagarde also regretted that the global economy may be split into a competitive group headed by China and the United States, and warned that it would increase the growth and exacerbate inflation.

Why is the economic recovery unsatisfactory?

In addition, the Chinese government has promoted the economy to the upper reaches of the value chain to give priority to the quality of growth rather than quantity. But these reforms take time. This also led to the incompetence of China's economic recovery.

"China has been working hard to achieve the transformation from low -end manufacturers to future industries (artificial intelligence, robotics, semiconductor, etc.)." Consumption and slowing growth are "natural results".

Zeng Ruisheng told the Voice of Germany that although Xi Jinping explicitly hopes that the Chinese economy will become more motivated, energetic, powerful and innovative, "his policy often has the opposite effect." He said: "As Xi Jinping strengthens the control of power, the control of power And refused to admit mistakes, Chinese technical bureaucrats cannot actually make necessary adjustments to revitalize the economy. "

At the same time, the International Monetary Fund predicts that in the next five years, China will continue to become the greatest driving force for global economic growth, with a contribution rate of global economic growth of about 22.6%, while the United States is only 11.3%.

Although the slowdown in Western demand will continue to have a negative impact on China's exports, there are still many aspects of China's domestic economy, especially due to the depression of demand due to three -year epidemic prevention blockade.

"During the epidemic, Chinese consumers accumulated $ 2.6 trillion in excess savings." Duterto told Germany's voice, "Therefore, it is expected that the service industry is expected to pick up the relics in the short term.

Taiwanese soldiers who monitor Chinese military operations (Voice of Germany)) As the Washington Post quoted a It is said that Taiwan will be difficult to deal with air strikes from China, which has made Taiwan's air defense capabilities focus in recent weeks.

The disclosed document in April mentioned that Taiwanese officials suspected whether their air defense system could "accurately detect missile launch from China", and Taiwan's military aircraft did not have enough "full task ability". The document also emphasizes that Taiwan's fighter jets may become the goal of Chinese missile attacks because it takes at least a week to transfer them to a safe place.

The Taiwan Department of Defense said that the US media reported "not a fact" and emphasized that Taiwan has made appropriate modifications on the combat plan, and also continued to strengthen its military preparation. Some analysts said that the leaked documents underestimated Taiwan's "powerful" missile defense capabilities. Tonyhu, a senior director of the Ministry of Defense China, Taiwan and Mongolia Office, said that Taiwan's long -range warning radar and space warning can be found in a few seconds. system.

Is Taiwan the ability to fight a large number of Chinese military aircraft?

Nevertheless, people still have some doubts about the overall air defense capacity of the island. One of the reasons is Essence According to the ranking of military capabilities of various countries based on the military website "Global Firepower": the Chinese People's Liberation Army has more than 3,000 military aircraft and nearly 400,000 air force personnel, while Taiwan has only more than 700 military aircraft and more than 30,000 Air Force soldiers.

However, experts told DW that although China's advantages in air strength can suppress air defense in some areas of Taiwan, Taiwan can use air defense missiles to resolve the gap. Su Ziyun, a researcher at the Taiwan Institute of Defense Security, pointed out: "In the Ukrainian war, although there is a huge gap between the number of military aircraft in Ukraine and the Russian Air Force, Ukraine can use short -range stab missiles to obtain some air defense capabilities."

Because Taiwan has remote, medium -range and short -range air defense missiles, Su Ziyun believes that this Essence He said: "Although they only have short -range missiles, Ukraine has done a good job in air defense. Taiwan has a wider air defense missile, so I believe that it can be done better in terms of air defense."

According to data released by the Washington Think Tank Strategy and International Research Center (CSIS) in 2021, the Taiwan's missile plan is mainly composed of six different range of missiles-Tianjian, Xiongfeng Type Types, Xiongfeng Type 3, Wanjian, Xiongfeng E, and Xiongfeng Yunfeng. In addition, there are Tiantong missiles, which are land -to -air -to -ball missiles developed by Taiwan. Although Taiwan has restricted its missile forces in defense in the past, CSIS pointed out that the island has begun to develop missiles designed as cracking down mission.

Although Taiwan can fight against China's military strength through investment in air -to -air missiles, some studies have shown that the PLA's efforts to make the Air Force's modernization are being achieved. According to a blog post published in February, the Institute of International Strategy (IISS) said that the institute's annual evaluation data of the military capabilities of 173 countries showed that the PLA is accelerating the expansion of the fighter group. According to data from the Institute of International Strategy, the PLA Air Force now has more than 600 aircraft deployment in 19 front-line combat brigades, and the annual production speed of combat aircraft such as J-20 has doubled in the past three years.

Hu Zhendong, an official of the first Pentagon, told DW that Beijing has achieved success in the production of new combat aircraft, including the J-35 stealth fighter. He said that this shows that "the great growth of China's capabilities is a concerned issue."

However, Hu Zhendong also added that China's progress in the production of a large number of combat aircraft may not be enough to reverse the situation of Taiwan, because Taiwan also has aircraft and other systems provided by the United States to help support Taiwan's combat capabilities. As a part of strengthening Taiwan's air defense capabilities, the Taiwan Ministry of Defense signed two parts and aviation materials transactions worth about $ 420 million on April 21 this year, which can be used to maintain Taiwan's fighters.

In addition, Hanxiang Aviation Industry (AIDC), one of Taiwan's national defense contractors, said earlier this month that Taiwan is seeking US support to create the next self -developed fighter. Hu Kaihong, chairman of Hanxiang, said: "We hope that the United States will support Taiwan to develop its own fighter aircraft, including engines, aviation electronic equipment, control systems, environmental control, etc. These are all opportunities for Taiwan and the United States to cooperate."

from China

Although experts such as Hu Zhendong and Su Ziyun believe that Taiwan's air defense capabilities can resist China's air strikes to a certain extent, they also expressed concern about the continuous activities of China's gray areas around Taiwan. And the PLA's increasingly frequent blockade of military exercises around Taiwan.

Since April 2023, China has increased the frequency of the gray zone around Taiwan, including Essence In addition, the PLA also showed new tactics and deployed operations drones around Taiwan. Du Zhenyi, a researcher at the Taiwan Institute of Defense Security, mentioned: "Beijing is being displayed, and drones have become part of their action in the gray area."

The Ministry of National Defense of Taiwan announced on May 2nd of the Chinese military aircraft activities. One of the BZK-005 drones was bypassing Taiwan in a clockwise direction

Hu Zhendong, an official of the first Pentagon, warned that the main purpose of China's action around Taiwan was to instill the concept of "failure" to the people of Taiwan, while affecting the island's air defense preparation status and ability. He said: "Wars are already carried out, because China's primary goal is to keep pressure to scare the people of Taiwan."

Hu Zhendong added that allowing the Taiwan Air Force to drive new military planes to intercept Chinese aircraft to disrupt their usual training and increase the cost of maintaining aircraft. He said: "Taiwan should consider using the upcoming military aircraft to intercept these, and recruit retired pilots to perform these tasks."

In order to better cope with the increasing risk brought by the potential cross-strait conflicts, Hu Zhendong believes that in addition to formulating a response plan for China's actions, Taiwan should also ensure sufficient war reserve materials. He told DW: "It is very important to ensure that the necessary supplies of Taiwan's necessary materials are in place."

In May 2019, Putin met with Li Hui in the Kremlin Palace

(Voice of Germany Chinese) Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on Friday (May 12) that Visit Ukraine, Poland, France, Germany and Russia from next Monday (May 15). This is the highest -level diplomat sent to Ukraine since Moscow's invasion last year.

"Münchnermerkur" (Münchnermerkur) pays attention to the latest move in China to try to play the role of mediation in the Ukrainian crisis, and propose a key question: send a "Putin friend" to take on peaceful mission, how many opportunities to succeed in peace, Intersection

The reporter, Senhauberg, noticed a photo photo (picture of this article) -a was a photo of Li Hui, then the then Chinese ambassador to Russia, and President Putin. In the photo, Putin had a trace of or even a shy smile, while Li Hui, with a thick black hair, posted a gesture that seemed to be a leading way.

"At that time, it can be clearly seen that China is the direction that guides the relationship between the two superpowers So some people think that China can impose influence on Putin and finally end up This war in Ukraine. French President Macron and Brazilian President Lula belong to these people who have not yet given up hope. They believe that after the Ukrainian war lasted for more than a year, when will Beijing change from friends from Russia to peace? The creator. "

The author believes that from now on, Beijing is still on the side of the Kremlin on any occasion. While calling with President of Ukraine, Chinese President Xi Jinping only made some empty commitments. Anyway, one of the commitments is now fulfilled -Li Hui, as an Eurasian East, will visit Kiev on Monday.

The article quotes German Asian affairs expert Saskiahieber analyzed that Li Hui's qualifications in regional affairs are undoubted, but this is not the most lucky candidate for Ukraine. "This diplomat has worked in Moscow for 10 years since 2009. It can speak fluent Russian. His entire career has devoted himself to the relationship between China and the Soviet Union and his subsequent countries. Easy and pleasant. In addition, he has also served as the deputy minister of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for many years -this person is definitely not a small person in a diplomatic circle. " - People can guess that this candidate may have coordinated with the Kremlin in advance.

As for how serious China 's efforts to rebuild peace in Ukraine, the article pointed out that what Beijing definitely does not want to see is Russia' s "completely defeated". China has never suggested that Russia's withdrawal from the occupied Ukraine land has repeatedly emphasized that the safety demands of all parties should be respected. When Xi Jinping visited Russia this spring, he told Putin, "We will promote it together in a century -old change." The author pointed out whether there is no place to know if there is a place for Ukraine's national interests in such a change process.

The article summarizes that China may eventually become a winner no matter what China. "Even if Li Hui's diplomatic mediation mission returns without success, Beijing can emphasize that he has made at least efforts - and continue to push the guilt of war killing to NATO and the United States."

At the same time, it is still difficult for the European Union to coordinate the unified China policy. The article from the Frankfurt Report reported from the Stockholm venue pointed out that although countries still have a unified stand to face China, the so -called European diplomatic "strategic autonomy" theory proposed by Macron obviously has not much support.

Author's evaluation It reflects a very difficult "balance technology": on the one hand, it emphasizes that the rise of China's rise in the middle of this century has become the goal of the world -leading power of the world, and the risk avoidance measures that Europe must take; on the other hand It is concluded that the European Union should be decoupled from China, but it advocates adopting a "firm, but not opposite position" to China.

"As for whether this balance technology can be done in practice, it will be reflected in the newly brewing sanctions of the European Union." The article pointed out that the European Commission has recently accused eight Chinese companies importing goods from Europe and transferring it to Russia helps the country for war. So far, the European Union has not taken specific measures on such acts. However, in the future, the European Commission plans to formulate a new sanctions mechanism. The first step is to list the list of high -risk risks that have gained high risk in Russia's sanctions. The second step is to prohibit exports to these countries.

The article also pointed out that at the venue of Stockholm, it can be clearly felt that Macron's argument about Europeans "should not be involved in Taiwan's conflict" is not much supporters. Lithuania Foreign Minister Langzbelgis also said that the upgrade of the Taiwan Strait situation may lead to decoupled with Europe. He added that in fact, an informal foreign minister meeting like this time is the right time to discuss the topic.

Since May 14, 2023, Ming Pao Zunzi Comics was suspended. On the 13th, the newspaper published the last issue.

(Voice of Germany Chinese) "I can continue to draw for 40 years, and I think it is amazing. I think the soil and air in the city of Hong Kong happened to be able to accommodate?" The political affairs of China and Hong Kong reached 40 years. The newspaper published the final column on Saturday (May 13).

Although it was criticized by the authorities many times, Zunzi's farewell work still did not change the color -in the last issue of "Zunzi Comic", the crooked huge building with "no democratic ingredients" was pressed in the "District Council" plaque plaque. Above it. The dialogue reads: "The word" must "is built, and the word" no "is counted! I said !!!" I satirize the Hong Kong rectification of the district council, [] Essence Authorities officials pointed out that the "Basic Law" notice district council must be elected by elections, and the increase in democratic components is "Jianjian" (illegal construction); another column "Century Edition Matter Comics", the three manga comics have no dialogue, depicting depicts, depicting The wind and rain gradually grew, and the sky was darker.

On the eve of the stop publication, Zunzi was interviewed by DW. Although he lost his final creative position, he still said: "Ming Pao has been able to adhere to the controversial comics so far, he is much better than other newspapers."

"Ming Pao" also published a special manuscript on the 13th.

The authorities "constantly pressurize"

Zunzi's real name Huang Jijun has been serialized in the Ming Pao since 1983. It is famous for its irony and Chinese politics. The brushes are hot and sharp, and they can be warm. In the past, it was created in "Apple News" and "One Weekly", which have been suspended one after another. "Ming Pao" is the last place where Zunzi published a column in the mainstream media in Hong Kong.

In the past six months, the Hong Kong authorities have named six times and criticized Zunzi's comic "Pets", "Discovering", and made "biased, misleading and misunderstood allegations". The last time was the "Zunzi Comic" criticized the Hong Kong Council of Hong Kong this week. (<https://www.dw.com/zh/zh/讽刺时政遭当局点名-香港漫画家尊子被迫停载/a-65588165>) Essence

After the report was discontinued, the Hong Kong Security Director Deng Bingqiang pointed out that if a platform was used, he believed that the editor was not happy, thinking that this was a "responsible practice."

When asked if there were specific incidents that triggered the pressure accumulated for a long time, and how to respond to Deng Bingqiang's statement, Zunzi said to DW: "Officials say they are talking about themselves, and they often seek" effects "more than" content. "In my opinion, Officials may lose their patience. In order to achieve speed, constantly pressurizing, a bit of deserted board is not comparable."

In the last issue of "Zunzi Comics", the editorial room of the Ming Pao thanked Zunzi for "witness the changes of the times together" in the past 40 years, but did not mention the reason for the suspension. Earlier, Zunzi told the media that the reason for the suspension "Everyone knows where the pressure comes from. The pressure is getting bigger and bigger, and this decision is helpless."

Forty years, as a day, the political comics created by Zunzi are the memories of many Hong Kong people (the author authorized by Zunzi).

News and Creation Freedom narrowed

The anti-repair campaign broke out in Hong Kong in 2019. China was introduced in 2020 [] After that, the space and creation space in Hong Kong continued to narrow, and Zunzi stopped publishing storms once again triggered a wide range of discussions.

Vawongsir, a Hong Kong political cartoonist who is currently settled in Taiwan, believes that the incident highlights the shrinking of Hong Kong's political comic space. He said, "The teacher's work has been growing up with me and has been watching his work growing up, so I feel that in the past for so many years, Hong Kong still seems to have some freedom to criticize the government or give the government opinion, but after the" National Security

Law " Now -really today -I really feel that even a tradition is a tradition. Even our (political comics) are gone, it is not allowed to criticize the government in a humorous way, or to give government opinions. So I really feel that there is really no freedom or human rights in Hong Kong. "

After Zunzi comics announced the suspension of publication, Vawongsir released his work, which wrote "Hong Kong today, Tomorrow Newspaper." VAWONGSIR told DW that Hong Kong news is now more reviewed. He expressed it: "In fact, we don't know what to watch, or there is nothing to watch."

According to the latest "World Press Freedom Index" of non -border reporters, [] Essence In 2019, Hong Kong is still 73.

"Ming Pao" removed Zunzi comics. The Hong Kong Reporter Association issued a statement saying "sad" and criticizing "the SAR government with huge resources and public power to snip a literati, reflects the voice of not being criticized in Hong Kong; The content has been violently criticized or accused of illegal law, thereby exacerbating self -examination, and damage to the free space for news and speech that is guaranteed by the Basic Law, which has no benefit to society. "

In this regard, Li Jiachao, the Chief Executive of Hong Kong, responded that Hong Kong has freedom of press and freedom of speech, but must oppose any information that is false, bias, misleading or slander. Responsible media institutions must also consider the information provided to the citizens to meet the public expectations. Media agencies should be responsible for the society; as for Hong Kong media reports, Zunzi related books were subsequently removed from the public library. Li Jiachao said that the library has professionals to examine whether the books violate the law or have a adverse impact on society.

Zunzi Old Work (Zunzi authorized).

: I didn't consider leaving

After a huge change in Hong Kong, VAWONGSIR did not dedicate to the pessimistic of the front road of Hong Kong's local political comics. In recent years, including Vawongsir, A Tu and Huang Zhaoda, many Hong Kong political cartoonists have left Hong Kong. VAWONGSIR told DW that Zunzi was forced to leave "Ming Pao" just an example. "I believe that tomorrow or the day after tomorrow will continue, there will be other different examples to prove that Hong Kong is not free now."VAWONGSIR also revealed to DW that after the news of the suspension, he contacted Zunzi. According to him, Zunzi told him: "Don't worry, let everyone cheer up, and continue to work hard." Vawongsir said that his creation had been complained by the authorities in the past, and Zunzi also encouraged him to continue drawing. Today, overseas creators will continue to work hard.

According to the Ming Pao, Zunzi said that he has not planned to draw political comics on other platforms for the time being.

Witness "Hong Kong Story"

Zunzi, 68, graduated from the Art Department of the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Since the 1980s, he has stepped into the road of political comic creation. His career has also witnessed the historical changes in Hong Kong.

The first comic he published in the Ming Pao depicts Hong Kong people's anxiety about the future of China and Britain's negotiations in Hong Kong.

In the work, a kite with "H.K (Hong Kong)" shakes the air, symbolizing two men in China and Britain grasping the kite line on the ground. According to one side, the dialogue reads "Ask the vast earth, who is floating."

Hong Kong media person Tan Yanyun posted on Facebook, "Zunzi's work span the history of Hong Kong for forty years, and witnessed the mood of the Hong Kong portrait kite being pulled by the Chinese and British parties when the Chinese and English negotiations in the 1980s and 1990s; Including Deng Xiaoping, Jiang Zemin, and Xi Jinping, the Governor of Hong Kong Governor Pengding, etc., all became the protagonists in his pen. "

During the 1980s, Zunzi also painted the "New Evening News" of the "Grand Press" of his pro -Beijing Public Press. Zunzi recalled that it was an era of active thoughts and comics. He told DW: "Deng Xiaoping returned in the 1980s, proposed open reforms, domestic folks gradually emancipated their minds, and even cartoonists were active to break a lot of ideas. Hong Kong's left newspapers also followed the general trend. In the new western art article, there are suddenly more comics parks, and even the "comic version" is opened for professional and amateur painters to contribute.

Forty years of openness and narrowing, when asked which work was most impressive during the period, Zunzi told DW that "every period has an important incident, and it is difficult to give an example." It can condense complex things, "expressing the most economical images," emotional "and" reasoning "are there."

A few days ago, Zunzi told the media that suspension is also part of today's "Hong Kong Story", but "even if it is rugged, there is still ahead." The front road was unknown. Every creator in Hong Kong is telling the story of Hong Kong. "

Except for the readers in the Ming Pao, "Free garden needs free soil. Everything in daily life of citizens is the" soil "of this city. Let's work hard together." He also told Dw: "The development of world political and economic development is often There is a surprising new situation, and it often impacted the political trajectory of a small place. You can be happy when you "success". You do n't need to be discouraged when you fail.

The last issue of the Ming Pao "Member" depicts the wind and rain, and the sky is getting darker.

The Pakistan Supreme Court approved the former Prime Minister Imlan Khan for two weeks, and ordered that during his bail, the authorities could not arrest him with other cases he involved.

Reuters reported that when Emran Khan left the court on Friday (May 12), he said that he was treated as a terrorist and had to respond to this. After he was approved for bail on Thursday (11th), the safety personnel still did not let him go. After waiting for many hours to leave the court building, he returned to Ralaer in his hometown of hometown under rigorous alertness.

Supporters of Imlan Khan since Tuesday (9th) Protesting Emran Khan was detained.

As Pakistan is in the economic crisis, soaring inflation, weak growth, and the International Monetary Fund Organization repeatedly delayed the issuance of loans, the Supreme Court ruled on Thursday to "invalidate and illegal" the arrest of Imlan Khan, which triggered the government criticism and caused this to make this. The national situation with a population of 220 million is even more unstable.

The Pakistani Ministry of the Interior had previously ordered a social media platform after Emran Khan was arrested to prohibit people from accessing Twitter, Facebook and YouTube.

After Emran Khan was released, Pakistan Telecom Regulatory Agency immediately announced that it would restore broadband services in various places.

Analysts said that the authorities' blockade of the Internet will only be counterproductive, but it will promote the momentum of Emran Khan.

Comprehensive Media News on the 13th, Berkshire Hathaway, a well-known brand "Ice Queen", founded by Berkshire Hathaway, a U.S. Billionaire Wallen Buffett, is likely to enter the Taiwan market. According to Reuters, Troybader, Chief Executive CEO of the International Ice and Snow Company, recently told the media at the company's shareholders' annual meeting that the company usually finds a new market in areas adjacent to the existing market. The supply chain expands the market.

Bud said that Taiwan "has been included in our exploration list", including Australia, India and Europe on the list. "We will make a wise choice, but we will continue to develop these markets and go there for our fans."

However, investing in the tycoon Buffett said after Bud's speech that if he puts funds to Japan instead of Taiwan, he will feel "safer".

Buffett's words expressed his anxiety about current US -China relations. One of the main reasons for US -China relations is Taiwan. Bud said that no matter which market enters, the queen of ice and snow will be vigilant about political issues.

China is the second largest market for the ice and snow queen chain store. Among more than 7,000 stores around the world, more than 1,250 are located in China. Last year, the company's annual sales were more than 5.7 billion US dollars, exceeding 5.5 billion in 2021. Bud believes that the development of the Taiwan market is in line with the company's consistent standards for choosing a new market.

Description: (France -France -France -Prescription, New House, 13th) Seven major industrial groups (G7) Minister of Finance of various countries announced today after the Finance Ministers' meeting that it is expected to launch a partnership plan to promote the diversification of the supply chain this year. The G7 Leader Summit will appear next week.

Videos: []

Images: "[000000.png"]

The G7 Treasury Secretary did not mention directly that the motivation of this new architecture was to work hard to reduce trade dependence on China and Russia. The focus of this partner plan is located in clean energy technology.

Nevertheless, US Finance Minister Janet Yellen specifically mentioned the recent impact of the global economy after meeting with the Japanese Treasury Secretary.

She told the media reporter: "The spillover effect caused by Russia's war on Ukraine, and the interruption of supply caused by the covid-19 (2019 coronary virus disease) epidemic, clearly illustrates the importance of supply chain toughness and diversification."

The financial ministers of G7 and the heads of the Central Bank emphasized that "urgent need to solve ... the existing weakness in the highly centralized supply chain." In their joint statements, they hope that "the slowest will be before the end of this year" to launch this partnership program with WorldBank.

The name of this mechanism is "Resilient and Inclusion Supply-Chainenhancement (RISE), which is based on the guidelines released in April this year. G7 Treasury Secretary said that this plan will provide "funds, knowledge and partnerships" to interested developing countries.

The three -day G7 Finance Minister Conference was held in the new coastal cities in central Japan. Only a few days apart from the G7 Leadership Summit held in Hiroshima, Japan from 19th to 21st this month. The relationship between G7 and China is expected to discuss the actions of nuclear military reduction and responding to climate change.

At the end of today's meeting, the G7 Treasury Secretary also reiterated sanctions on Russia's commitments, saying that they were working hard to implement sanctions together, but they did not announce that any specific new actions to crack down on sanctions.

Germany will provide Ukraine with a military reserve of 2.7 billion euros (about 3.95 billion yuan), including 30 leopard tanks. This is the largest military aid provided by Germany to Ukraine so far.

Reuters reports that President Ukraine's staff chief of staff said on social media on Saturday (May 13) that Germany will also provide four IRIS-T air defense systems, 20 weasel infantry chariots (MARDER), 200 unmanned reconnaissance aircraft , 100 armored vehicles and a lot of ammunition.

German Defense Minister Borispistorius issued a statement saying that Germany's military aid supporting facilities showed that Berlin was seriously supporting the invaded Ukraine and would continue to do it. "We all want to end this terrible and illegal war as soon as possible. Unfortunately, it is not yet foreseeable (end of the war). Therefore, Germany will do everything to provide any help, no matter how long it takes."

Because it is expected to face Russia's counterattacks in the next few weeks or months, Ukraine has urged allies to provide remote weapons, military aircraft and ammunition. Germany was initially unwilling to provide heavy weapons for Ukraine, fearing that this might have promoted battle upgrade. But Germany agreed to provide leopard tanks in January this year, and it shows that it will cooperate with the allies to provide more tanks for Ukraine.

The United States and the European Union will promise to take joint operations to solve concerns about Chinese non -market behavior and coordinate export control over semiconductor and other products.

Reuters reports that U.S. Secretary of State Brosky, Vice Chairman of the European Commission Vestiger, and other senior officials will hold the fourth EU -US Trade and Technical Committee (TTC)Meeting.

The draft statement seen by Reuters said that the United States and the European Union will solve the problem of non -market behavior and economic coercion, and plans to conduct regular talks on how to prevent companies from investing in strategic competitors with strategic competitors, indirect means of China.

The draft also said that the United States and the European Union will coordinate export controls for "sensitive items", including items and semiconductors with military use. This statement only mentioned twice in China and may change before the meeting.

Brussels said that China is a partner in certain fields and economic competitors and strategic rivals. The EU realizes that coordination with the more eagle is critical, so it is necessary to re-adjust the policy for China.

The draft emphasizes China's medical device industry, saying that cross-Atlantic partners are "exploring possible actions" to deal with the threats brought by non-market policies and practices. They also plan to cooperate to strive to combat foreign manipulation information, including "the magnification of China's false information about the Ukrainian War in Russia." The two sides also said that they are committed to cooperating with the Seventh Kingdom Group (G7) to coordinate their actions and resist economic coercion. For example, the European Union calls China's trade restrictions on the implementation of EU member states.

EU 's senior representative of diplomatic and security policy Berrely said that the European Union must accelerate the supply of ammunition to Ukraine, and the Ukrainian forces need 1,000 artillery shells every day in the Bachmut region.

Reuters reported that Berrely revealed after attending an informal meeting of the EU Foreign Minister on Saturday (May 13) that Ukrainian Foreign Minister Coraba told the EU Foreign Minister at a meeting that Kiev needs more support to resist Russia's invasion. Essence Berry said that "Ukraine needs about 1,000 artillery shells a day" around Bachmut, the eastern battlefield city. When asked how the EU accelerates ammunition to Ukraine, Berrely replied that member states must use their own inventory and overcome logistical challenges.

EU Minister approved a plan worth at least 2 billion euros (about $ 2.9 billion) in March to provide 1 million artillery and ammunition and missiles to Ukraine within 12 months. This plan will provide artillery shells from its own inventory and jointly place new orders from its own inventory.

Berry said that Ukraine needs to be remotely ammunition, "because Russia bombed far away." He said: "Ukraine must be able to achieve the same range."

Kulbaba said before the meeting that the meeting would focus on discussing the supply of remote artillery and ammunition.

According to Agence France -Presse, according to the Zoom Earth website, the wind speed of Hurricane Mocha is as high as 240 kilometers per hour, so it is classified as "Super Cyclone".

Mocha is listed as a level 4 storm in the Saffir-Simpson (a total of 5 grades) that measures the intensity of the hurricane intensity.

It is expected that the intensity will weaken before the Mocha landed in the region between the coast of Cox's Bazar and the Rakhine in western Myanmar.

Kok Sabar's refugee revenue is nearly 1 million Luo Xingya refugees, and they all live in a humble house. The Bangladesh authorities banned Loxia people from building houses with cement because they were worried that it would encourage them to settle permanently and not return to Myanmar that they escaped 5 years ago.

Bangladesh officials announced tonight that the authorities have relocated nearly 100,000 people of Koksbarbar and Chittagong to a safe area, and "refugees have evacuated to nearly 4,000 asylums respectively."

Although officials claimed to evacuate refugees into more strong buildings such as community centers and schools, the Deputy Director of the Bangladesh Refugee Affairs Department Shamsuddouza told AFP that "all the Luxians of the refugee camp are in danger middle."

Dhaka Meteorological Bureau predicts that the hurricane will bring a 4 -meter high storm, which may flood the low -lying coastal villages; the hurricane will also bring heavy rain and trigger soil flow. Myanmairway International announced that all flights flying to Ruoche have been suspended until 15 days.

The Myanmar Red Cross Society also said that the organization is preparing to deal with "major emergency events."

The US Ambassador to South Africa, Britti, apologized for his previous accusation of "South Africa provided weapons to Russia". The two sides subsequently promised to establish a partnership and work together.

Xinhua News Agency reported that South Africa International Relations and Cooperation issued a statement on Friday (May 12) that Reuben Bridy "apologized to the South African government and the people without reservation."

Bloomberg reported that the headquarters of the South African news website in Cape Town, News24, quoted Britti on May 11 that although South Africa held a neutral position in Russia's invasion of Ukraine, the United States was convinced that South Africa provided weapons and ammunition to Russia. He said that "gamble on my life" was determined that the weapon had been loaded on a Russian cargo ship Lady R in December last year at the naval base of Simon 'STOWN.

In response to Britti's remarks, the Presidential Palace in South Africa issued a statement on the 11th that it was not a secret that the cargo had stopped South Africa, but the various claims that it had occurred "has not received evidence support so far."

The South African statement on the 12th said that the Minister of International Relations and Cooperation of South Africa summoned Britti that day to express the "greatest dissatisfaction" on the latter's above -mentioned remarks.

Britti said in social media on the 12th that he was glad to have the opportunity to "correct any error impression left by my public remarks." US State Department spokesman not to objection to South Africa's declaration of Britti as an apology. Essence Neither side mentioned that Britti claimed that South Africa was transporting weapons to Russia for the authenticity of the Ukrainian war. Officials agreed to conduct an independent investigation on the incident.

This dispute has led to a new round of tensions between the United States and its countries that have been trying to win. Despite the pressure, South Africa has so far rejected Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

The U.S. State Department said that Secretary of State Brills talked with Panto and "emphasized the importance of strategic partnership with South Africa", which further shows that the United States is determined to repair the relationship after the dispute occurs.

A video circulating in Russian social media showed that a helicopter was suspected to be shot down over the Bryansk region of Russia, which borders Ukraine.

The Tas Society quoted an emergency rescue staff on Saturday (May 13) that preliminary information showed that the engine of the helicopter had caught fire before crashed near the border.

A video uploaded by Russia's communication application Telegram Channel Voyenniyosvedomitel showed that a helicopter exploded at high altitude, was thrown away from the route, and then fell to the ground in the flame.

The narration of the video said that the Mi-8 (MI-8) transport helicopter made by Russia was crashed, and it was shot down by the missile. A photo uploaded with the video shows the wreckage of the helicopter in the farmland. Mi-8 is widely used in military and civil aviation purposes.
